BOMBS HIT DUBLIN; 30 KILLED

STRANGE RUMOR PUTS MUCH OF U. S. IN A DITHER

Link Sabotage Scare to Washington.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Rumors of a gigantic "sabotage" plot, disseminated all over the country from a central point in the nation's capital, resulted in extraordinary precautions today at munitions plants, ports, and other places of military importance up and down the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and across the country.

Observers pointed out that the result of the rumors was to create activity which might be used to justify President Roosevelt's recent proclamation, in which he said the nation was in a state of unlimited emergency.

A mysterious martial touch was added by the canceling of holiday leave and the staging of "practice alerts" and "tactical maneuvers" at various military establishments.

Army Denies Knowledge.

The war department denied knowledge of the army post "alerts" and "maneuvers," but said they could be ordered by post or corps commanders. Whether there was any connection between the army post activities and the sabotage rumors was not clear.

Civilian authorities in various cities said they were advised by J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation to maintain an extraordinary vigil against the possibility of a concerted sabotage effort over the Memorial day week-end.

During the day not a single instance of sabotage, actual or attempted, was reported anywhere.

FORT CUSTER 'THREAT'

Battle Creek, Mich., May 30 [Special]. — Hundreds of parents and friends who came to visit soldiers at Fort Custer today were summarily turned away as the camp continued what it called a "practice alert." Many of the would-be visitors came long distances. Tonight the fort again was closed tight and heavily guarded.

Altho the 6th corps area headquarters in Chicago had explained last night that all this merely was a sort of war game, Col. R. T. Phinney, acting commander, said he still was carrying out his last official instructions, which were to take all precautions against "a threat to the security of the post."

Patrol Forts' Boundary.

Since 7 p. m. yesterday soldiers with guns have patroled the fort's boundaries, roads, bridges, power and water lines, and the nearby Municipal airport in secrecy so grim that participating officers admitted "it even fooled us," and citizens of Battle Creek were alarmed no end.

During the day, civilian automobile traffic was permitted on a main road which runs thru the cantonment, but the road was patroled closely and armed guards at barricades peered into each car as it was admitted. Capt. Richard Merrick, post intelligence officer, said his men were searching for "weapons and anything else regarded as dangerous."

The barricades piled up holiday traffic for miles.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

Some of the day's developments elsewhere:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—Army pursuit planes were ordered to aviation plants. Plant rooftops were guarded with anti-aircraft guns. Los Angeles harbor ships were floodlighted. Patriotic bodies were or-

Mr. Roosevelt's Pledge

President Roosevelt, on October 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

"The purpose of our defense is defense."

Many Injured; Planes Over City 2 Hours

DUBLIN, May 31 [Saturday] (AP).—Three bombs dropped here early today by unidentified aircraft killed at least 30 persons and injured between 100 and 200, the police said after the capital of neutral Ireland was visited by planes.

Two bombs struck north side residential areas, demolishing homes and burying their occupants. The third struck about a half mile from the center of the city and destroyed many shops.

A large fire which was started in the residential area was brought under control shortly before 5 a. m. [midnight, Chicago time] after blazing for three hours.

Anti-Aircraft Guns Bark.

The planes were over the capital for about two hours, beginning at midnight, but did not release their bombs until about 2 a. m. Anti-aircraft batteries fired on them constantly.

After an investigation, police expressed belief that the bombing was unintentional, and even surmised that an anti-aircraft shell may have struck a plane and caused it to drop its bombs.

United States Minister David Gray said that bombs blew out the glass front door of the American legation in Phoenix park. He said the closest of the bombs feel a quarter of a mile from the legation. No one there was hurt.

ARMY FINDS NEGROES CAN SEE BETTER AT NIGHT THAN WHITES

Fort Bragg, N. C., May 30 (AP).—Evidence that Negroes can see better at night than white men—a discovery that may revolutionize the Negro's rôle in the armed forces—was carried to Washington today by two scientists who have been conducting vision tests on draftees here.

Dr. H. De Sylva of Yale university research center, and Dr. W. M. Miles, vision expert of the National Research council, will present their findings to Col. David Grant, chief medical officer of the army air corps.

De Sylva made vision tests at a truck driving school for soldiers. After 4,000 men were examined he concluded Negroes had better night sight than whites. He called Dr. Miles to confirm his discovery. Miles picked at random seven white and eight Negro draftees. He lined them up on a night-blackened field and told them to look at a point 100 feet away, where a stick holding a square of white cardboard had been placed. The soldiers were asked whether the stick was in a horizontal or vertical position.

The Negroes could see the cards, but the whites had to approach to within 50 feet—half the distance—before they made out the cards.

CAROL ENDS LONG FLIGHT IN EXILE; LANDS AT HAVANA

HAVANA, Cuba, May 30 (AP).—Former King Carol and Mme. Elena [Magda] Lupescu of Rumania stepped ashore on Cuban soil late today to make their home in exile after a drama packed eight months flight from their now Nazi dominated homeland.

The couple flashed wide smiles at the hundreds who lined the Havana waterfront. The crowd applauded in return, a strange contrast to the couple's hurried departure from Rumania last September when mobs fired on their train.

A motor launch brought them ashore from the United States liner America which anchored out in the harbor. The couple looked after their four dogs first, then entered an automobile which took them to the Hotel Nacional where they will live temporarily in a $540 a month five room suite.

Other passengers said the couple had enjoyed their trip here from the Virgin Islands immensely. Carol, they reported, was highly pleased when he won a $17 bingo pot aboard ship last night.

OPM Collects Pots, Pans, and Artificial Legs

Madison, Wis., May 30 (AP).—Members of half a dozen Madison civic organizations spent Memorial day going from door to door collecting old coffee pots, radiators, automobile castings, parts of washing machines, and various other aluminum scraps to aid an office of production management test which opened here today.

The campaign was sponsored by the OPM as a "trial balloon" to determine whether a nation-wide drive to collect odd bits of aluminum for use in national armament work would be of value. A similar drive was opened simultaneously in Richmond, Va.

Three Artificial Legs.

Richmond, Va., May 30 (AP).—An anonymous donor contributed three legs for his country today. They were artificial ones, outgrown as he rose from youth to manhood, and constituted one of many oddities turning up in Richmond's test collection of scrap aluminum for the Office of Production Management.

Pots and Pans Crisis.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—A crisis has developed in pots and pans for the army, it was learned today.

Despite strict orders from the Office of Production Management for civilians to conserve aluminum and give up their aluminum pots, pans, ice trays, pitchers, etc. for bombers for Britain, it was discovered that the army has been ordering aluminum utensils by the thousands.

The army and navy have priority on the rationed supply of aluminum—supposedly for building airplanes. But, a survey showed, here's what the army was buying: 50,000 aluminum pots, 5,000 aluminum coffee filters, 50,000 aluminum water pitchers, 100,000 aluminum syrup pitchers, 3,900 aluminum plates, and other aluminum utensils. All were ordered after OPM imposed industry wide rationing.

Want Something Done.

When word of these contracts came to the attention of OPM officials they feared that the public might not like it, and politely asked the army quartermaster corps to do something. The OPM officials said that 60,000 coffee pots would make one heavy bomber.

Army officials agreed that something must be done. The contracts already had been signed but they promised to use substitutes for aluminum in the future.

BRITISH BID AMERICA TO CUT DOWN ON FOOD AND SEND IT TO THEM

LONDON, May 30.—Lord Woolton, food minister, today issued an urgent appeal to the people of the United States, asking them to reduce their normal consumption of milk, cream, sugar, cheese, canned salmon, and meat so that these foods can be sent to Britain, where they are vitally needed. He also said that Britain needed dried fruits, particularly apples and raisins, and tomato juice. The first consignment of foodstuffs sent to Britain under the lease-lend act is expected to arrive in England shortly.

DISABLED PLANE 'PLAYS THRU' AT THE 14TH HOLE!

A small Stinson monoplane piloted by Herbert Holmes, 1629 Columbia avenue, made a forced landing yesterday on the 14th fairway of the Dempster golf course, Milwaukee avenue and Dempster street, after a cylinder head blew out thru the engine cowling at an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Holmes brought the ship down not far from the 14th tee, where a score of golfers were waiting to drive off. Neither he nor his passenger, Earl Peterson, 6014 Francisco avenue, were injured. The plane, however, had to be hauled back to Palwaukee airport where the two rented it.

Russel Ruh, pro at the club, said about 300 golfers were playing when the plane glided in.

STORK, INC., PAYS ZOO DIVIDEND IN ORANGUTAN DEAL

A pigmy hippo and a giant guinea pig [Patagonian cavy, to be technical], two wildebeests or gnus, and a zebra were the strange quintet of traveling companions scheduled to leave Brookfield zoo by truck today for San Diego, Cal. Robert Bean, director of the Brookfield zoo, has swapped the animals to a San Diego zoo in return for Karjeung, a big male orangutan valued at $3,500. Bean got a little cash to boot, and said it was just like declaring a dividend, because all the animals he traded were born at the zoo.

Witnesses Tell How Hood, Bismarck Sank

Graphic eyewitness descriptions of the final minutes of the prides of two navies, the British battle cruiser Hood, and the German battleship Bismarck, reached The Tribune last night. The stories of how these two giants of the sea were sunk are among the most dramatic in naval history. Here they are:

BY J. R. N. NIXON.

[Reuters British Special Correspondent with the Royal Navy.]

LONDON, May 30.—I watched the "battle of giants" which culminated in the sinking of the British battle cruiser Hood. Standing on the bridge of one of the British warships, I saw the 42,100 ton Hood, long the world's largest warship, go down only 200 or 300 yards away with her guns still firing.

The battle was the climax of a chase by the Hood and the battleship Prince of Wales and their accompanying destroyers to prevent the Bismarck from breaking out into the Atlantic to attack convoys.

Pursuit began off Iceland and continued hour after hour in the eerie half-light of an arctic night.

The cruisers Suffolk and Norfolk, which had been shadowing the Bismarck since the big vessel left Bergen, Norway, kept the Hood and Prince of Wales informed of her movements and thus helped find the quarry.

Curtain of Snow Lifts.

It did not get completely dark at any time that night.

The enemy was sighted at 6 a. m. last Saturday when a curtain of snow suddenly lifted.

For some minutes our ships sped on toward the Germans to shorten the range.

They, too [the Germans], turned in toward their pursuers and the world's biggest warships were thundering toward each other at a combined speed of probably more than 60 miles an hour.

The tension of waiting for the battle to begin became acute.

The "open fire" order was given by signal.

Almost simultaneously orange gold flame burst with a roar from the Hood's forward guns. Within three seconds puffs of black smoke shot out from the Bismarck as she opened fire.

Prince of Wales Fires.

The Prince of Wales' guns then began firing. Dense clouds of yellow cordite smoke enveloped her bridge. She was to the left of the Hood, 200 or 300 yards away, and still surging forward on a parallel course.

Fountains of water shot up in her wake—first about 100 yards behind her and then only 50 yards astern.

The Hood thundered on and then, suddenly, she was hit.

A shell, or shells, appeared to fall just forward of one of her after 15 inch gun turrets and great flames and heavy black smoke burst from her.

The Hood continued to fire and still raced forward.

What happened next was a strangling, sickening sight. There was a terrific explosion and the whole of a vast ship was enveloped in a flash of flame and smoke which rose high into the air in the shape of a giant mushroom.

Sinks in 3 or 4 Minutes.

Sections of funnels, masts, and other parts of the ship hurtled hundreds of feet into the air and some of them fell on our ship.

The Hood's bow tilted vertically into the air and within three or four minutes she was gone entirely.

A destroyer was diverted to rescue work and managed to pick up three of the ship's company—two seamen and a midshipman. [There were 1,300 aboard the vessel.

All this time the Prince of Wales continued pouring shells at the Bismarck. 'More than once spurts of water showed she was straddled.

Again shells from the Bismarck crashed near the Prince of Wales, but she came out of the battle with little damage.

AN ENGLISH PORT, May 30 (AP).—The chief petty officer of a British warship which helped rescue approximately 100 survivors from the sunken 35,000 ton German battleship Bismarck today told of the powerful blows that sent that vessel to the bottom 400 miles west of Brest, France, last Tuesday.

The 100 survivors landed at this port were all that were saved from a German crew estimated to number all the way from 1,300 to 2,400. The larger figure was attributed to one of the rescued Germans by other British naval men.

The chief petty officer, L. R. Crocker, in his account, said: "We sighted the Bismarck about 9 a. m. Tuesday [after the Bismarck on the previous Saturday had sunk the British battle cruiser Hood near Iceland.]"

Speed Slowed to 10 Knots.

"The Bismarck was then engaged," Crocker continued, "and doing barely 10 knots, her speed slowed by hits by aerial torpedoes that were scored earlier in the battle.

[According to the British admiralty statement last Tuesday the Bismarck was hit by an aerial torpedo on May 24. Again on May 26 another aerial torpedo struck the Bismarck amidships and a second one hit it on the starboard quarter. These blows made the big battleship an almost hopeless cripple.]

"The Bismarck fired a number of salvos which came over the top. We gave her three salvos for'ard. I could see explosions bursting aboard the German, which was concentrating her fire mainly on the Rodney [British battleship].

"Now the Bismarck was afire, but her guns were still roaring. At the end of an hour's action, the Bismarck stopped moving. The Rodney and another British battleship were banging hell out of her.

Fire Seen to Spread.

"As we went in closer to do our stuff, I saw our shells knock the brains out of the Bismarck. We smashed her after-control and the fire aboard her was spreading. But the Nazis had guts.

"The Rodney knocked her after-turret clean out until it was hanging over the side. The Bismarck was now ablaze from stem to stern, and her guns at last were silent.

"The order came to sink the Bismarck, and we banged her like the devil with our guns, giving her roughly 40 salvos. After that, our forces put two steel fish [torpedoes] into the starboard side.

Lifted from Water.

"The torpedoes lifted her bodily out of the water. Then a cruiser [the admiralty disclosed it was the Dorsetshire] slammed a third torpedo into her, and that finished her off. It was the last shot fired. The Bismarck stood up for a few seconds and gradually keeled over toward the port side.

"Then she turned right over, showing her keel, and slid back. As she disappeared she seemed to break up. There were a lot of Jerries in the water. We steamed up and started picking them up.

"German submarines and aircraft were reported and this caused rescue work to be stopped. We beat it.

"The survivors were given restoratives before being put to bed. Most of them were fairly young. On the runback to this country one of the survivors died and was buried at sea.

"We didn't have the Nazi ensign to use at the burial so an old German imperial ensign was used.

"One of the officers told me he and the crew were convinced that the Bismarck was unsinkable."

3 Nations Cut Food Rations

Dispatches yesterday told of further cuts in food rations in three European nations. The dispatches:

GERMANY—Meat rations for restaurants were slashed again with a decree forbidding any meal to contain more than 100 grams [3.53 ounces] of meat. The order, effective June 4, reduces the former ration by one-third.

FRANCE—The weekly meat ration for June was fixed at one-half pound, representing a reduction of about one-third. The coffee ration also will be reduced. Coffee now contains two-thirds substitutes, mostly barley.

ITALY—Production of biscuits or crackers of any type made of flour, milk, or any of the rationed fats, such as olive oil and butter, is to cease on June 15. Cake, ice cream, sweet forms of bread, and other desserts already are banned.

BRITAIN—The king and queen like to use their weekly meat ration for a week-end roast, Queen Elizabeth told Minister of Food Lord Woolton. "Then we try to make it spread over the week," the queen stated.

GERMANS CLAIM CRETE VICTORY BY SKY TROOPS

British Resistance Broken—Berlin.

BERLIN, May 30 (AP).—The German invasion of Crete was virtually completed today, the German high command declared.

Maj. Gen. B. C. Freyburg.

On this, the 11th day after German parachutists and air-borne mountain troops dropped from the sky to swarm over Crete's strategic military locations, allied resistance was declared to have collapsed. The number of prisoners and piles of booty were mounting steadily.

Claim General Killed.

The German news agency, DNB, carried a Damascus dispatch which said Maj. Gen. B. C. Freyburg, the New Zealand world war hero who has commanded the allied defense of Crete, had been killed in a plane crash while he and his aides were fleeing to Alexandria, Egypt. The dispatch said the information came from "the Cairo radio." [There was no confirmation from Cairo or London.]

A German military spokesman, while asserting the battle for Crete was decided, said there still was a question as to what the allied troops hemmed into the southern part of the island would do.

Yet one thing, he added, is certain —"they cannot all escape." He contended that Ierapetra, on the southeast coast, is the only port which could possibly be used for large scale evacuation and that even it is so filled with sand that large ships cannot enter.

Flee in Fishing Boat.

Official accounts said scattered British and Greek troops were falling back to the island's southern coast in the hope of being able to embark safely under cover of darkness which would shield them from the fury of German planes.

The German wireless reported that British, Greek and Australian soldiers, fleeing from the areas of Canea and Candia, were attempting to reach Africa on small fishing boats and that "the first group of fugitive soldiers" has already arrived in Egypt.

The Germans shared the credit of the victory with the Italians, who landed on the eastern end of the island two days ago and have been striking westward in a pincers movement.

Germans Claim Retimo.

Claiming that only a mopping up process was yet to be completed, the Germans were declared to hold Retimo; Candia, Crete's largest city; Canea, the capital, and the former British naval base of Suda bay.

With the conquest of Crete, the Nazi press said, Germany had won one of Britain's four corner stones of defense of her power in the eastern Mediterranean and near east.

It was stated the other three—Haifa, Palestine; Alexandria, Egypt, and Tobruk, Libya—had been made more vulnerable. Crete's air bases in German hands "become a direct threat to the British position in Egypt and on the Suez canal," it was said, and the British fleet's freedom of movement has been "dangerously hampered."

USE ARTIFICIAL FOG

ROME, May 30 (AP).—The allied defenders of Crete were declared here tonight to be wandering, trapped and demoralized, in the gray terror of an artificial fog laid down by the Nazis to handicap their desperate efforts to escape by sea.

For the British and their Greek and imperial comrades it was pictured as a disaster more complete even than Dunkirk. It was asserted that while exhausted groups of the defeated allied army were clambering about Crete's harsh and twisted southern shores in search of rescue ships, only one detachment was known to have been picked up by a British destroyer, and others perilously took to the sea in little fishing boats.

To add to what was called here the fatal British predicament, the British fleet was said by the Italian high command to be in flight toward Alexandria, under a running attack from Italian bombers. The British destroyer Hereward was reported blown up, and in continuing rescuing operations 329 of its crew had been picked up.

READY FOR BAD NEWS

LONDON, May 30 (AP).—Significant omissions from tonight's middle east communiques, rather than details actually told, left Britain ready for news of the evacuation of Crete, even tho fierce fighting apparently still continues.

In London, fear that the Germans and Italians have finally broken thru to land sea-borne troops after the 11 days of German air-borne assaults increased in the absence of any word concerning recent naval operations around Crete.

Of two RAF middle east communiques today and tonight, one failed to mention Crete, and the other only referred to patrols over the Mediterranean between Crete and north Africa. These omissions stirred speculation whether air attacks on the Germans in Crete itself had been abandoned.

Raid Italian Island.

Usually well posted quarters admitted they were unable to account for the apparent shift of RAF bombing raids from Crete to the Italian island of Scarpanto, which is between Crete and Rhodes.

They suggested that it might be for fear German planes were using the island as a way station en route to Iraq and as a base for the terrific air assaults on Crete.

The British middle east command told this story:

"Further German air-borne reinforcements reached the island. Intensive dive bombing continued thruout the day and further adjustments have been made in the position held by our troops, who again exacted a heavy toll from the enemy."

Present disposition of the British forces was not clear here, altho it was said they still held the north coast town of Retimo, toward which the Germans were advancing steadily.

Official quarters declared Italian landings probably had been made on eastern Crete, altho they had no confirmation of this Italian report.

QUOTES WORDS BY SCHMELING ON HIS WARFARE IN CRETE

BERLIN, May 30 (AP).—Max Schmeling's words were quoted in the German press today to relate his part in the Nazi invasion of Crete after reports that he had been killed were officially spiked.

An interview with the former heavyweight champion by Siegfried Kappe, a German air force reporter, told how Schmeling had wandered alone half a day in the Crete wilderness after becoming separated from his companions, then rejoined them and helped capture a strategic coastal road.

The official denial of Schmeling's death said he was in an air force hospital with a minor attack of a tropical disease.

"Our group was to take a penitentiary building on an important strategic street," the pugilist-parachutist was quoted. "Snipers directed by British officers opened fire. There was heavy fighting. Our opponent had heavy weapons which we lacked. Some of us were separated from our group, but at dusk we were rejoined and the strategic road as well as the penitentiary were ours."

[A new Zealand ambulance driver, arriving at Alexandria, Egypt, from Crete, on Thursday said Schmeling had been captured by imperial forces and in attempt to escape had been shot.]

ABANDON GRAIN SHIP OFF BRAZIL AMID HURRICANE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 30.—Southern Brazil was hit today by the worst storm in years. There were winds of hurricane force at sea and intense cold and heavy snowfall in many areas.

The Argentine freighter Inspector Benedetti, of 3,078 tons, listed as bound for Philadelphia with grain, was reported abandoned and sinking off the coast of Rio Grande do Sul. Her crew was rescued by the Spanish liner Cabo De Hornos. Three other Argentine grain ships were reported in distress.

The Brazilian ship Potengy was reported in danger as her wheat cargo had shifted, and the Brazilian ship Itabera was standing by.

Germans Claim Victory in Crete

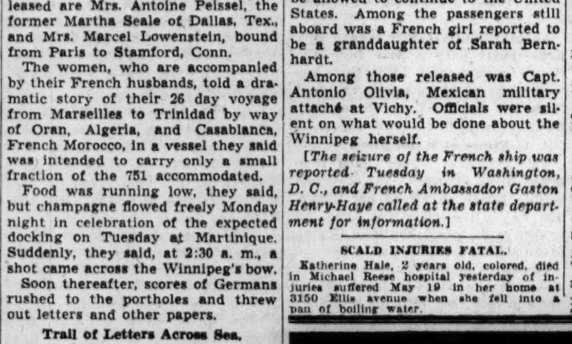
The status of the battle of Crete is told in captions on the map. The German high command asserted yesterday that British-Greek resistance has collapsed and that it is impossible for all of the defending forces to escape.



This map shows how the asserted axis victory in Crete advances German-Italian drive toward the Suez canal, a vital point in the lifeline joining Great Britain and its eastern territories.

SEIZE HUNDREDS OF GERMANS ON FRENCH VESSEL

British Stop Gay Party with Cruiser Shell.

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad, May 30 (AP).—Intercepted at sea by a British cruiser while passengers were celebrating with champagne their expected arrival at Martinique, the 8,379 ton French passenger ship Winnipeg is in Port-of-Spain harbor and hundreds of her German passengers have been interned.

Two American born women today told how scores of Germans bound for the French colony of Martinique threw hundreds of letters and other papers into the ocean after the cruiser had fired a shot across the Winnipeg's bow and escorted her to Trinidad.

Of the 751 passengers aboard, 210 Germans, 76 Austrians, and 70 unclassified persons have been interned pending investigation while the remaining passengers are being examined aboard the vessel.

Already Released.

The two American born women among those already examined and released are Mrs. Antoine Peissel, the former Martha Seale of Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Marcel Lowenstein, bound from Paris to Stamford, Conn.

The women, who are accompanied by their French husbands, told a dramatic story of their 26 day voyage from Marseilles to Trinidad by way of Oran, Algeria, and Casablanca, French Morocco, in a vessel they said was intended to carry only a small fraction of the 751 accommodated.

Food was running low, they said, but champagne flowed freely Monday night in celebration of the expected docking on Tuesday at Martinique. Suddenly, they said, at 2:30 a. m., a shot came across the Winnipeg's bow.

Soon thereafter, scores of Germans rushed to the portholes and threw out letters and other papers.

Trail of Letters Across Sea.

Thruout the next day, en route to Trinidad, papers continued to be thrown out until a trail of letters bobbed in the vessel's wake. Even typewriters went overboard, Mrs. Peissel said.

While the Germans were interned pending investigation, officials said all with genuine American visas would be allowed to continue to the United States. Among the passengers still aboard was a French girl reported to be a granddaughter of Sarah Bernhardt.

Among those released was Capt. Antonio Olivia, Mexican military attaché at Vichy. Officials were silent on what would be done about the Winnipeg herself.

[The seizure of the French ship was reported Tuesday in Washington, D. C., and French Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye called at the state department for information.]

SCALD INJURIES FATAL.

Katherine Hale, 2 years old, colored, died in Michael Reese hospital yesterday of injuries suffered May 19 in her home at 3150 Ellis avenue when she fell into a pan of boiling water.

DISCLOSES DESTROYER SAVED ATLANTIC LINER FROM BISMARCK GUNS

OTTAWA, Ont., May 30 (AP).—A large liner loaded with hundreds of British military personnel bound for Canada and the United States narrowly escaped the guns of the German battleship Bismarck in the north Atlantic, it was disclosed tonight.

The alertness of an escorting destroyer tipped off the liner to the Bismarck danger, a member of the fleet air arm who was on the passenger vessel said on arrival here with the airmen, sailors, soldiers, and girls of the women's auxiliary air force.

The airman said it was in the vicinity of the clash between the British battle cruiser Hood and the Bismarck that the destroyer flashed a lamp warning to the liner. "Bismarck knows your course and speed," the message said, "increase speed four knots." Immediately, he said, the liner surged ahead. The destroyer turned back toward Britain.

PREMIER OF IRAQ FLEES; BRITISH NEARING BAGDAD

Column Is Only Five Miles from Capital.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 30 (AP).—Foreshadowing collapse of Iraq's four week war with Britain, Premier Rashid Ali al Gailani and his henchmen have fled to Iran [Persia], British authorities announced tonight.

The flight came as British imperial forces, pressing thru the Garden of Eden, reached a point within five miles of Bagdad, the national capital.

Official quarters here and in London said Rashid Ali, who seized power April 4 and started battling the British May 2, had taken with him his chief of staff, Amin Zaki, and the self-styled Regent Sharaf, whom he had named to act for King Feisal II., who is 6 years old. Another report said the fleeing premier had taken the king with him.

Original Regent Returns.

The present status of the German aerial assistance which Rashid Ali has been receiving was not made clear.

The original regent, Emir Abdul Ilah, who was forced to flee in April, has returned in the wake of the British drive, and now is at Fallujah, British held town just west of Bagdad, the British reported. A delegation of leading Bagdad citizens went out to meet him and tribal chieftains were said to be flocking to his standard.

The middle east command reported that its troops managed to cross a damaged iron bridge eight miles east of Bagdad, and, altho impeded by flood waters loosed by the Iraqis in the narrow depression between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, had occupied Al Kadhimain, five miles northwest of Bagdad.

Another British column, following the Euphrates north from the port of Basra, reported it had reached and occupied Ur, the biblical Ur of the Chaldees which was Abraham's birthplace. Ur now is a junction point on the Basra-Bagdad railroad.

While the British land forces thus progressed it was acknowledged here that Adolf Hitler's warplanes have given him control of the Mosul oil fields of eastern Iraq without getting any oil for him.

Huge Quantities of Oil Stored.

The pipeline to the refinery at Haifa, Palestine, has been cut off at its source by the Iraqis since hostilities opened with Rashid Ali. The branch line into French mandated Syria has been closed for the last year, and there was no indication that the Iraqis or their German friends had been able to reopen it.

The British middle east forces have stored huge quantities of oil and gasoline, so they assert they are not likely to feel the lack of Mosul oil for many months.

The RAF has responded to German air control of the oil fields with repeated bombings, and the British said the combined land and air pressure against the invaders and the insurgents was daily growing greater.

FORMER KAISER GAINS SLIGHTLY; FAMILY AT SIDE

Two Sons, Daughter Join Him at Doorn.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 30.—The condition of former Kaiser Wilhelm II at his house of exile in Doorn, Holland, a few miles from the Dutch city of Utrecht, was reported slightly improved today. He is 82 years old, and suffering from an obscure intestinal disorder.

Two of the former emperor's sons, Oscar and August Wilhelm, already are in Doorn, as well as his only daughter, Victoria Louis, and a grandson, Prince Louis Ferdinand. Former Crown Prince Frederick still was in residence at the Cecilienhof near Potsdam tonight, but he probably will leave for Doorn tomorrow.

Long Years of Exile.

The former emperor has shared the long years of his exile with his wife, Hermine, since he fled to Holland in 1918, shortly before the world war armistice was signed.

Doorn was within the zone of military operations of the invading German armies a year ago, but altho shells are said to have burst not far from the castle grounds, no damage was done to the kaiser's house.

The day before the victorious German forces passed thru on their drive to the English channel coast, high Dutch officials called upon the former monarch to ask him whether he desired to go to England. Former Kaiser Wilhelm, the story goes, replied, "I am only going to England with the German army."

Hitler Grants Concessions.

Events of the war forced the former emperor to spend his last birthday alone for the first time. It is generally believed that Fuehrer Hitler has made special concessions to Germany's former ruler, permitting the transfer of funds to Holland for his support, thus enabling the former kaiser to live in comparative comfort.

For years the former emperor sawed wood and split logs daily, but two years ago his physicians made him give up his favorite exercise on the grounds that it was too strenuous for an octogenarian. Long walks in the surrounding countryside served to preserve his health, while numerous hobbies occupied his time at home.

He is the proud owner of the world's most complete collection of the insignia of the Prussian armies. The collection includes epaulets, decorations, swords, and sidearms of officers of all ranks. The little military museum is equipped with a comprehensive technical library.

Array of Tin Soldiers.

Gem of the collection is an array of tin soldiers executed by artists and representing exact reproductions in miniature of the soldiers of each regiment of the German armies in their various uniforms.

But the former emperor also had more peaceful diversions. Long hours in his garden were devoted to flower growing achievements considered phenomenal even by experts in that land of flowers. The lowly vegetables, fruit trees, and other products of the garden received his closest attention in specially laid out beds.

Urges Co-ordinated Price Control for U. S., Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., May 30 (AP).—A co-ordinated price control policy for Canada and the United States is "important if not essential" because of close commercial relations existing between the two countries, John Hamm, deputy United States price administrator, said today. Hamm is in Ottawa to confer with Canadian authorities.

U.S. REQUISITION OF LINERS STIRS TALK OF A. E. F.

Raises Question of Troop Transports.

Portuguese Aroused

LISBON, Portugal, May 30 (AP). President Roosevelt's statement in his fireside chat Tuesday night that the United States would not permit the Azores and the Cape Verdi Islands to come under axis control was described today by the influential newspaper Diario de Noticias as deserving "our most formal protests."

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Large scale requisitioning of merchant ships for the army and navy, including passenger liners suitable for troop transports is causing increasing speculation in Washington as to whether the administration contemplates expeditionary forces to the Cape Verde and Azores islands and possibly Dakar, in French West Africa.

[Dakar, at latitude 14:40 north, lies about 1,000 miles north of the equator near Liberia and the Ivory coast. It is known for its violent storms, high humidity, and sudden temperature changes.]

Luxury Liner Called Back.

The $17,500,000 luxury liner America, which arrived at Havana today, has been ordered back to New York from its West Indies cruise for delivery to the navy. The United States maritime commission also is planning to requisition three or four other merchant vessels for the navy within a few days.

There have been reports that the liner America, the nation's largest merchant ship, might be converted into an aircraft carrier, altho this would be a slow and expensive job, since it was designed with its stacks in the center rather than on one side. The navy is converting six new "C-3" merchant ships with center stacks into experimental aircraft carriers, but it is believed more likely that the navy wants the America as a troop transport for the marines.

Could Carry 5,000 Troops.

The 26,454 ton vessel has accommodations for 1,202 passengers and a crew of 634, but could carry 5,000 or 6,000 troops. The ship was delivered for service only last July. She has a "normal sea speed" of 22 knots and is capable of considerably greater speed.

Ten new ships built for the Moore-McCormack lines have been taken over by the navy, and four new passenger vessels under construction for that company have been earmarked for the navy.

The army has converted more than a dozen passenger liners for transport duty since the European war began, including the United States luxury liners Manhattan and Washington.

Hint Given by President.

The army has converted more than a dozen passenger liners for transport duty since the European war began, including the United States luxury liners Manhattan and Washington.

In his radio fireside chat Tuesday night President Roosevelt asserted that control or occupation by Germany of any of the Atlantic islands would threaten the safety of the United States. Already, he said, the Nazis have extended their threat to "the Atlantic fortress of Dakar and to the island outposts of the new world—the Azores and Cape Verde islands."

The marines would be the first troops to go if an attempt should be made to occupy any of these bases. There are reports, however, that the 1st division of the regular army, now concentrated at Fort Devens, Mass., soon will be transferred to Puerto Rico. This would indicate that the 1st division would be used, if necessary, as part of the land force that would be required to implement the President's words about the Azores and Cape Verde islands and possibly Dakar.

Capital Talks of Expeditionary Force

(Story in adjoining column.)

Points which President Roosevelt, in his "unlimited emergency" speech, mentioned as vital to defense of the western hemisphere are shown on this map, with other places figuring in speculation at Washington, D. C., on the possibility of an American expeditionary force.

4 BRITISH SHIPS SUNK IN MASS U-BOAT RAID EAST OF GREENLAND

New York, May 30 (AP).—The torpedoing of four British ships, engaged in ferrying American supplies, during a mass submarine attack on a convoy about 450 miles east of Greenland was disclosed today by maritime circles. Officials said the vessels sunk were the Gregalia, 5,802 tons; the Esmond, 4,976 tons; Bengore Head, 2,609 tons, and Empire Caribou, 4,861 tons, a total of 18,248 tons. Maritime circles also reported that the British freighter City of Kimberly, 6,169 tons, recently in the New York-Boston-African trade, had been torpedoed almost on the equator about 1,000 miles northeast of Natal, Brazil.

BIG ITALIAN SHIP CARRYING TROOPS SUNK BY BRITISH

Torpedoed on Way to North Africa.

ROME, May 30 (AP).—A British torpedo has sunk the 17,879 ton Italian liner Conte Rosso, a transport laden with troops presumably en route to reënforce the axis in North Africa, it was officially acknowledged today.

The high command's announcement of the ship's destruction, which occurred south of Syracuse, Sicily, said that most of her men had been saved, and at the same time reported Italian successes in African waters. Fascist warplanes were declared to have sunk two British auxiliary ships and a 2,000 ton steamer in harbor at Tobruk, and to have hit a munitions depot and concentrations of motor vehicles near there.

Fighting Around Tobruk.

North African land fighting was reported limited to the activity of artillery and patrols about Tobruk.

During the day the arrival home of four submarines—what was said to be Italy's entire underseas fleet of the Red sea—was announced. They were said to have safely made an 80 day trip of 14,000 miles around Africa. The disclosure of their escape, which was hailed by the press as an Italian naval victory, indicated that the submarines left Massaua, Italian Eritrea, sometime between April 4, when the British were closing in on that port, and April 11, when they occupied it.

Italian Force Is Trapped.

LONDON, May 30 (AP).—Italian forces at Gondar, a pocket of Italian resistance in northwest Ethiopia, have been hemmed in by a Fascist withdrawal from Debarech, on the Aduwa road 50 miles to the north, authoritative British reports said today.

British imperial forces moving against Gondar in the sector north of Lake Tsana are composed principally of Ethiopians commanded by British officers, these sources said.

Native forces in southern Ethiopia were said to have cleared the Italians from the area between Soddu and Muggo, about 70 miles to the north.

At the beleaguered British held port of Tobruk, British forces were said to have made a thrust at the axis' dent in the western perimeter of the Libyan port's defenses.

Around Sollum, just on the Egyptian side of the Libyan frontier, where axis vanguards have been active, there were only patrol skirmishes.

REPORT ITALIANS ASK VICHY FOR TUNIS PRIVILEGES

BERNE, Switzerland, May 30.—With unrest reported to be spreading in French North Africa, it was learned here tonight that another element of complication is about to be introduced—probably tomorrow—thru the drafting of an Italian demand on Vichy expressing the "desire" for concessions in Tunis, similar to those granted the Germans in Syria.

The note, it was said, will stress that Italy has never renounced her "just claims" for the fruits of "victory" over France. Moreover, it was understood that the note will point to the inability of the French garrisons in Tunisia to protect Italian shipping, as was reported Wednesday when British planes bombed the harbor of Sfax, in which Italian ships had sought shelter.

Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander of the French North African forces, has returned to Tunis from Morocco. Two high French staff officers are expected to fly to Tunis from Marseilles tomorrow.

U. S. TO BRITAIN SHIP SINKINGS SET AT ONLY 28

Low Estimate Bears Out Emory Land's.

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—Apparently authentic reports reached congress today that only 28 ships loaded with war supplies in United States ports have been sunk en route to Britain since the European conflict began in September, 1939.

While no tabulation was available on the total number of such vessels to clear United States ports, interested legislators said it was safe to assume that the loss ratio of American goods thus far had been relatively small.

Sinkings listed were said to have involved some food products from South America which were transshipped at ports here. It was said, however, that the sinkings do not include sea losses of equipment produced in the United States and sent to Canada for shipment from dominion ports.

Confirms Expert's Report.

The figure of 28 sinkings in the 21 months the conflict has been under way, some legislators said, tended to bear out the report Chairman Emory S. Land of the Maritime commission gave a senate committee recently.

Land revealed that out of 205 vessels which cleared from United States ports for the United Kingdom between Dec. 30, 1940, and last March 31 only eight were sunk.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and other administration critics hailed Land's statement as demonstrating that the time had not yet arrived when the United States navy should be employed to safeguard vessels carrying war cargoes.

President's Recent Remark.

The President told his press conference on Wednesday that convoys, in the world war sense, were outmoded. He added, however, that the effectiveness of the navy's Atlantic patrol in spotting submarines and raiders was increasing every day.

The President, meanwhile, had before him legislation finally approved by congress yesterday permitting the government to requisition, purchase, or charter 81 foreign ships lying idle in American harbors.

Altho the state department indicated that 2 German and 26 Italian ships involved would be used on American trade routes, the measure carried no legal restriction against their being turned over to Britain.

HUNDREDS OF PLANES DESTINED FOR BRITAIN HELD IN BOTTLENECK

Los Angeles, Cal., May 30 [Special].—Destined for Britain, hundreds of Lockheed Hudson bombers are standing idle at American airports because of a shortage of propellors, last minute technical improvements ordered by the British and shipping delays.

This was learned today from authoritative spokesmen who reported at least fifty of the camouflaged brown and green ships were counted recently at Lockheed air terminal, Burbank, as production lines added day to day to the squadrons of bombers awaiting delivery. More than 150 additional Hudsons are delayed at various Atlantic coast fields, it was declared.

Lack of three blade propellers is causing much of the delay of the otherwise completed planes, altho officials expect this bottleneck to be eliminated shortly.

Lockheed officials estimate that between 800 and 900 Hudsons now are in service overseas.

M. P. TO QUESTION CHURCHILL ON FLIGHT BY HESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 30.—A series of questions designed to clear up the mystery of Rudolf Hess' flight to Scotland, which still puzzles Britain, has been prepared by Laborite S. S. Silverman for submission to Prime Minister Winston Churchill at the next session of the house of commons.

News of the No. 3 Nazi leader has disappeared from British newspapers and Silverman seeks to obtain official information on the reasons for the flight.

He will ask Churchill whether Hess brought any proposals indicating how the problems of Europe might be solved, whether any reply is contemplated by the British government, and whether the prime minister will indicate the general lines of the government's own proposals for Europe after the war.

ROLE OF BRIDGES IN VICTORIES OF NAZIS REVEALED

Panzer Expert Credits Pioneer Troops.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—German pioneer units are credited by Col. Gen. Guderian, father of the panzer division, with making Nazi victories on the eastern and western fronts possible by repairing destroyed bridges and roads jn record time.

In an article in Die Strasse, official publication of the German highway service, which recently reached Washington, Gen. Guderian reports that pioneers built 108 bridges in Poland and 100 in the battle of France to implement the blitzkrieg attacks of September, 1939, and May, 1940.

The article leaves the unmistakable inference that failure to destroy all bridges in the west contributed materially to the Nazi success. Fewer bridges had to be erected in Holland, Belgium, and France than in Poland, which has fewer streams and less water. This would indicate, as military experts have suspected, fewer were rendered impassable.

Story of One Bridge.

The importance of a single bridge is disclosed by Gen. Guderian in observations on the Polish campaign. He writes:

"Since it was foreseen that all bridges would be destroyed by the Poles when the attack started, we expected to encounter strongest resistance while advancing on the main roads, but we hoped that by a quick dash on an unfortified road we could capture a 16 ton wooden bridge recently built by the Poles.

"Accordingly a panzer division was sent out on this mission. Its leading tanks succeeded in taking the bridge from the defenders, who had not anticipated the appearance of strong forces. Altho the bridge was burning we were able to extinguish the fire.

Movement Brings Victory.

"Two divisions advanced day and night across the bridge and the miserably sandy road on the far side to cut off the corridor and to annihilate the Polish troops entrapped in it. In view of the offensive spirit animating troops and the traffic jams threatened by increasing depth of ruts, it is no wonder that many commanders shouted themselves hoarse attempting to maintain order. But they did it."

Gen. Guderian acknowledged that his command, which was employed in the operations about Sedan, was delayed in crossing the Aisne river by the attempt of tank and infantry units to use the same roads and bridges simultaneously.

The energetic and aggressive action on the part of trained and well equipped German tank pioneer units neutralized, in a large measure, the tank barriers and road demolitions of opposing forces.

Lesson of Article.

The lesson offered by the general's article is that secondary routes and possible detours must be blocked as well as the main routes in order to check the progress of tank units.

He recalled that on the western front barricades were reinforced concrete walls higher than a man with deep shell craters on the far side. The Nazis made no attempt to level these walls or fill in the craters. They built detours, took secondary roads and in fair weather demonstrated considerable cross-country ability.

In addition to the pioneers General Guderian gave credit to skilled drivers of tanks and other mechanized equipment and to the efficiency of the various maintenance echelons for invaluable assistance to the success of his command.

WARNS JAPS MAY AMEND PEACEFUL POLICY IN S. SEAS

Matsuoka Aims Threat at Dutch Colony.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, May 31 [Saturday].—Japan may reconsider its peaceful policy in the South seas, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka declared last night and warned that Tokio will not be deflected from its adherence to the axis tripartite pact.

Matsuoka's reference to the South seas came as trade negotiations with the Dutch East Indies remained deadlocked and as the press and other quarters clamored for action, charging that the Dutch had gone back on their promise and had adopted a strong attitude. They demanded that the Neterlands colony come to terms.

Calls Reports Erroneous.

"Should any untoward international developments render execution of Japan's peaceful policy impossible," he said, "it is a possibility that Japan may have to reconsider its attitude in the light of changes in the situation."

The foreign minister said there was no foundation whatever for reports in the United States that Japan was growing indifferent to its pact with Germany and Italy.

"If there is any misunderstanding," he declared, "it is an absurd misconception and if such erroneous views are current in America, I cannot but ascribe them to misleading information."

Say Dutch Near War.

The newspaper Miyako today said that the Dutch Indies were drawing "into the danger of war," and warned Dutch officials not to depend upon Britain and the United States.

The Tokio Asahi charged there was an American "propaganda plot to estrange Japan and Germany and to interfere with our southward policy."

[In Batavia, N. E. I., Japanese negotiators expressed optimism about early conclusion of the economic talks. In Saigon, French Indo-China, travelers from Thailand reported increasing Japanese penetration in all departments of the Thai government, along with the removal or muzzling of all pro-British local officials.]

ARMY EXERCISES INVOLVING 75,000 TO BEGIN MONDAY

2d Armored Division in Tennessee Maneuvers.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Manchester, Tenn., May 30.—The so-called 2d army maneuvers begin in this area Monday. In reality it is a training exercise for the 7th tactical corps involving 75,000 troops. The feature will be the employment of the army's new second armored division from Fort Benning, Ga.

While 2d army press relations officers are making much of the part the armored division will play in the tactical problems, the real interest to the public is that the United States has only four armored divisions, two of which have just been organized.

Minimum of Training.

The second armored division is reported to be the best developed of the four, but it is lacking in prescribed equipment, its tanks are smaller and much less heavily armed than those used in mechanized warfare in Europe. Its officers and men have had only a minimum of training in the tactics of armored units.

However, it will be used in the exercises in a surprise attack to give troops of the other units which will take part, a taste of "blitzkrieg" tactics.

The tactical exercises will not be in the nature of a "sham battle," army officers emphasized. Most of the troops will be employed in one unit, with a corps of 15 umpires and a skeleton organization supplied by the 153d infantry from Camp Robinson furnishing the opposition.

Commanders of the units in training will be given a military situation, asked to make an estimate of the situation, and to proceed on a mission assigned to them.

Umpires Serve as Controls.

The umpires will act as controls, indicating the disposition of enemy troops and observing the action of the training forces. They will point out errors of command or operation, it was explained by Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the 2d army, and these lessons will be incorporated in the future training of the troops.

The tactical exercises will continue thruout the summer, but the present series will consist of two command post exercises, which will involve commanders and their staffs down to and including battalions, using normal means of signal communication. This will be followed by a tactical march, moving troops into position for final exercises which will involve the problem of two units operating against each other.

Exact position of the forces and the plans of action are being withheld from the commanders of the units concerned until just before the problem begins.

Will Have Period of Rest.

Between the exercises troops will have an opportunity to rest and clean equipment in the field, but they will not return to base camps.

Another evidence of the lack of equipment in the army was emphasized when the nine planes of the 108th observation squadron arrived from Chicago. Tables of organization call for 14 planes in the squadron. The 9 planes which the squadron has are not fit for combat and could be used in time of war only for secondary training purposes.

Altho the Tennessee exercises are rated by the war department as a major part of the 1941 training schedule, only 60 planes will participate in the exercises. Germany sends 500 planes over England in a single flight wave.

RAID LIVERPOOL; BRITISH USE NEW DEFENSE WEAPON

LONDON, May 31 [Saturday]—(AP).—German air raiders appearing over Liverpool, the surrounding Merseyside, and northwestern England last night and early today were challenged by terrific anti-aircraft barrages and, in one area, by an undisclosed new defense weapon. Most raiders were said to have been kept at a great height, but some casualties and damage were acknowleged in a west coastal city. Bombers also were reported over Northern Ireland.

Daylight raiders yesterday struck at the extreme northern and southern parts of Britain, but there was little damage and no casualties were reported.

WAR BETWEEN JAPAN, U. S. IS NOT IMMINENT, SAYS TOKIO OFFICIAL

MANILA, P. I., May 30 (AP).—Tadao Matsumoto, former Japanese vice minister of foreign affairs, told newspapermen in an interview tonight that he "didn't think war between the United States and Japan is imminent as some people are inclined to believe."

Matsumoto, a member of the Japanese diet, added that "It is to their mutual advantage that neither country seek armed conflict with the other."

The Japanese statesman is en route to Thailand [Siam] on a special, undisclosed mission. He expressed belief it might require several years to conclude the "China affair," and asserted Japan was prepared to wage the campaign in China to that end no matter how long it may take.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE ON WAR, SPEAKERS ASK

Charge President Fails to Put Issue Plainly.

The American people are being led down the road to a foreign war by means of indirection and dishonesty on the part of their governmental leaders, two speakers asserted yesterday at rallies sponsored by the America First committee. Both charged that President Roosevelt's fireside chat Tuesday failed to present the issue of war or peace directly.

The President's fireside chat was "vague and avoided the real issue," Dr. Anton J. Carlson, professor of physiology at the University of Chicago, told an audience of 1,000 in the Frankfort [Will county] High school.

Campaign Promises Disregarded.

"The President has disregarded the campaign promises he made before election. The leaders of both political parties, President Roosevelt for the Democrats and Wendell Willkie for the Republicans, misled the people. The Republican platform was clear on the war issue, but Willkie was vague. He showed his true colors after the election.

"The trouble with democracy is dishonesty in its leadership. And democracy cannot work under those conditions. The leaders in government should put the issue plainly before the people, and the people will decide whether or not they want to go to war.

"I dream of a day when our leaders will actually put the principles of democracy to work in our land in politics, industry, trade, and education. When that day comes our example will provide greater impetus for peace and justice in other lands than do our present speeches and our lending and leasing of war implements to all democracies and would-be democracies."

"Still Time to Choose."

Harold E. Fey, field editor of the Christian Century magazine, addressed a meeting of 200 persons sponsored by the Lincoln Park chapter of the America First committee in the North Side auditorium, 3730 North Clark street.

Tracing the President's increasingly warlike utterances since the "quarantine" speech in Chicago in 1937, Ley declared: "Tuesday's fireside chat implied much but actually said nothing. There were no direct statements."

Fey, a war veteran, urged Americans to remember their decision to avoid foreign entanglements and wars made after the last world war and in the light of America's disillusioning experience in that war.

"There is still time to choose between war and peace," he said.

BRITISH MINERS REJECT DEAL FOR WAGE INCREASE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 30.—The executive council of the British Miners' federation today rejected a provisional agreement with coal owners for a one shilling [20 cent] per shift increase in wages.

The council did not object to the amount of the increase, but to the coal owners' condition that the miner loses all extra pay for a week if he misses one shift.

Miner leaders demanded that the men should not be disqualified from receiving extra pay if they are absent thru illness, or attending to trades union, air raid precaution, or home guard duties. The labor leaders and coal owners will meet again next week to attempt to settle their differences.

PERU TAKES OVER FOUR PLANES OF AMERICAN'S LINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LIMA, Peru, May 30.—Thru a decree made public today the Peruvian government took over four Curtiss Condor airplanes and the airport buildings and equipment of the Condor [Tampa] Aviation Line, owned by Hugh I. Wells, veteran American pilot, designer, and promoter. The line has been operating in Peru since April, 1935, when planes were first flown to Lima from Patterson, La.

It is understood that the expropriation proceedings were entered into thru mutual consent with Wells in order to supply the Peruvian government with urgently needed aviation transport equipment.

WHEELER DARES F. D. R. TO TELL FACTS ON WAR

Declares 95 Pct. in U. S. Oppose Entry.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] leader of the noninterventionist forces, tonight dared President Roosevelt to tell the American people the "cold, hard facts" about this war and still try to lead them into it.

The Montana senator spoke before an enthusiastic anti-war rally in the nation's capital. Other speakers were John T. Flynn, noted economist and author, and Mrs. Robert A. Taft, wife of the Republican senator from Ohio. Thus the noninterventionists carried their battle against American participation in the war to the very seat of the war party.

The rally, sponsored by the Keep America Out of War congress, was attended by an overflow crowd of 3,000 people at Turner's arena, which has a capacity of only 2,500.

People Intimidated, He Charges.

In his speech Senator Wheeler declared that 95 per cent of the people oppose entry into the war, notwithstanding so-called polls to the contrary. The people have been intimidated, Wheeler charged. In his campaign from Boston to Spokane against the administration's war moves all sorts of people told him they were secretly for him but did not dare speak openly, he asserted.

"If you people have the courage to stand up, regardless of whether you are in the government or not, no President of the United States dare take this country into war," Wheeler declared amid cheers.

Wheeler recalled that in his widely advertised speech Tuesday night President Roosevelt said the American people should be guided by the "cold, hard facts."

Demands Roosevelt Give Facts.

"But I submit," said the senator, "that in that speech the other night he didn't give you any cold, hard facts. He was just appealing to your emotions."

Then Wheeler demanded to know why the President did not explain what the peace aims are of which he spoke; how he intends to impose the "four freedoms" on Russia, Germany, Italy, China and other countries of the world; why there need be no fear of German invasion, as military experts agree, or how it is impossible to land troops now on the European continent to combat Hitler.

The senator also dared the President to expose those who are urging him to war. In a series of questions to his audience on whether it was the working people who wanted war, or the farmers and their wives, or the merchants and little manufacturers, each time the audience roared "no!"

Flynn declared in his speech that the Roosevelt administration, instead of trying for a sensible peace, has led the United States to the brink of a war for which it is unprepared.

The United States must face the stern fact that Germany is winning the war, whether we like it or not, and Britain will be better off with a negotiated peace, said Flynn.

"This war," he continued, "is the product of a whole group of appalling blunders by hate blinded men. The question is, how much more of the world will be destroyed in order that these same hate blinded men may have their own way?

"I believe the whole world is waiting for the statesman of vision who will step into this awful world of war and offer hope for peace. That is the civilized course, and that is the course along which our safety, our security, and our freedom is to be found."

Warns of Overwhelming Odds.

The United States would face overwhelming odds if it were to enter the war now, Flynn declared. We would face the prospect of fighting Russia—because it has part of Poland—Japan, and France, along with the more immediate axis partners of Germany and Italy, if the United States tries to force the "four freedoms" upon the world, Flynn asserted.

Recalling that President Roosevelt declared when the neutrality act was amended that was the way to stay out of war, Flynn then reviewed successive steps leading instead to war.

"By one succession of blunders after another, by one false assumption after another, we have been led now to the very edge of the precipice where we cannot possibly endure one more mistake," he asserted. "The next mistake will put us into war."

Mrs. Taft Gives Replies.

Mrs. Taft said that on this Memorial day it is well to remember that "our responsibility and our duty is to America" despite our hate of Hitlerism and our sympathy for the people of Britain and the little countries overrun.

Mrs. Taft replied to arguments in favor of entering the war. If we cannot defend freedom here, she said, [illegible] not attack over in Europe, because it takes a force at least four times greater for attack than defense. As to warning of the loss of foreign trade and lower standards of living if we do not enter the war against Hitler, she declared that a year of war would cost at least as much as 30 years of foreign trade.

BISMARCK 50,000 TON SHIP, SAYS BRITISH OFFICER

LONDON, May 30 (AP).—The Bismarck was a 50,000 ton vessel instead of the 35,000 carried in official registers, a British naval officer who participated in the German battleship's destruction declared tonight.

Such a tonnage would have made the Bismarck the world's largest warship. The 42,100 ton battle cruiser Hood, which the Bismarck destroyed, had long been classed as the world's largest.

"The Bismarck was undoubtedly far above anything we had thought of," said the officer.

Hunt Canadian Air Force Plane Lost Near Calgary

CALGARY, Alberta, May 30 (AP).—A royal Canadian airman, semiconscious, crawled up to the door of a farmhouse just west of Calgary early today, aroused the family, muttered something about being lost in the hills and then collapsed. Later he revived enough to indicate that his craft had crashed and that a flying mate was still in the plane. He was taken to a hospital for serious injuries and a search for the wreck was started.

PEPPER CHALLENGES WHEELER TO DEBATE WITH HIM IN HELENA

Kansas City, Mo., May 30 (AP).—Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] today challenged Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] to a foreign policy debate on the question, "Is the President Right?"

Pepper said he sent this wire to Wheeler at Washington, D. C.: "I have an engagement to speak in Helena, Mont., Wednesday evening, June 4. I shall discuss: 'Is the President Right?' I would be very glad to share the platform with you if you should be so disposed and find it possible to come."

The Florida senator, on a speaking tour under auspices of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, said that in the event Wheeler were unable to go to Helena he would be glad to debate him any time and any place.

HEAR SUCCESSOR FOUND TO TIBET SPIRITUAL HEAD

CHUNGKING, China, May 30 (AP).—A special delegation has left for northern Sikang province to investigate the reported discovery there of a reincarnation of the Panchen Lama, spiritual head of Tibet, the Chinese Central News said today.

The last Panchen Lama died in 1938 en route home to Tibet, which he had fled in 1924 after quarrels with the present Dalai Lama's predecessor.

Under Buddhist doctrine, Tibetans believe that at the moment the Dalai or Panchen Lama dies he is reborn, and by a process of elimination among newborn babies the new lama is chosen.

SERGEANT YORK, AT TOMB, URGES AID FOR BRITAIN

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—Before the tomb of the unknown soldier, Sergt. Alvin C. York called today for immediate all-out aid to England, and added "if that means that we have to use convoys, then we should use them."

Alvin C. York. [AP Wirephoto.]

The tall Tennessee mountaineer who became one of the outstanding heroes of the world war AEF was invited as principal speaker at Memorial day ceremonies in Arlington National cemetery.

In his address, York struck out at advocates of "isolationism." He declared that Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] "ought to know by now that you can't protect yourself against bullets with an umbrella." To "a United States senator whose favorite bird must be the ostrich" York coupled a reference to "a famous trans-Atlantic aviator."

Save Our Republic

GULLIBLE PEOPLE.

When Hitler wants to start a war he tells his people they are encircled and in deadly peril. When he has worked that theme for all it is worth he cries that some Czecho-Slovakia or Poland is about to pounce upon Germany and eat her alive. The world marvels that the German people, aware as they must be of their relative strength as against the little nation, can believe such patent nonsense. In explanation it is said that the Germans are congenitally deficient in the sense of humor, the sense of proportion, the qualities which make us so much more sagacious in politics.

Mr. Roosevelt's address of Tuesday evening can profitably be read with that in mind. A military conquest of the United States by Germany is about as improbable as was a Czecho-Slovak or a Polish conquest of Germany. Our population is half again as big as Germany's. We have plenty of food, plenty of oil, plenty of all but a few of the essential raw materials of war. Our industrial plant is far larger than Germany's and, by and large, more efficient. Germany is inconceivably weaker financially.

It was within the physical possibilities for the Czechs to invade Germany. The soldiers had feet to walk with, roads to march on, and a common frontier with Germany to cross. Our country is separated from Germany by more than 3,000 miles of open water. The Germans can't walk across the Atlantic ocean, they haven't enough merchant ships to carry and supply an army of invasion, no navy to protect such an army en route and few, if any, planes which can fly to America from German held airports. We have the biggest navy in the world and we are beginning to produce airplanes in quantity. Long before Germany can launch an invasion we can have the world's biggest air fleet.

And yet Mr. Roosevelt tries to persuade the American people that they are in danger of encirclement, with Germany as the principal link in the chain. The thesis is as preposterous and as demonstrably preposterous as any scarecrow that Hitler ever devised.

It does not help Mr. Roosevelt's case to say that he was talking as much of economic as of military encirclement. The obvious fact is that the war which Mr. Roosevelt is threatening will cost more than our foreign trade is worth, and we do not underestimate the value of foreign trade. Further than that, this country is the world's largest market. If Hitler gains an empire he will still have to trade with us if he wants to profit from his conquests.

SPEAKING AS CITIZENS AS WELL AS JUDGES.

"When officials of the labor union step outside their labor union fields and act as highwaymen, levying tribute on those who wish to build homes or other buildings, acting for their individual gain, the immunity granted to the labor unions by the amendment to the Sherman [anti-trust] act does not extend to them.

"They are not acting as labor unions except in name. The test is whether the activity complained of is one promotive of the legitimate objects of a labor union, or whether the union is being misused by those holding official positions of trust therein, who, conspiring for private and personal profit, are using the union name to obtain immunity from Sherman act prosecution and at the same time shield their misconduct behind an organization whose fair name and activities are likely to mislead a court or jury, as well as the public."

Having delivered the foregoing opinion, Justices Evans, Major, and Briggle of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals dismissed a civil suit brought under the Sherman act by a Peoria contractor who asserted that he had been subjected to just such brigandage as the court denounced by a labor union conspiring with a contractors' association. The suit was dismissed because the Supreme court has already held in a similar case that the interference with interstate commerce complained of was too "remote and incidental" to furnish ground for action.

As good judges the members of the federal court here followed the ruling of the Supreme court. But as good lawyers and good citizens they could not refrain from protesting at the abuse of power by labor leaders which Mr. Roosevelt's appointees to the higher court seem determined to condone.

THE FATE OF RAIDERS.

The sinking of the Bismarck could not have come as a surprise to readers of naval history. History is repeating itself. Once again the big navy is running down the raiders. The British got the Graf Spee off Montevideo. Now they have the Bismarck, and there is every reason to expect that sooner or later they will get any other raider which manages to break thru the cordon.

Raiders don't win wars, no matter how spectacular the depredations. In Mrs. Roosevelt's family tree is found a Capt. James X. Bullock, a United States naval officer, who joined the rebellion and was instrumental in the purchasing and outfitting of the Alabama in England. The ship did a lot of damage, but was finally caught by the superior naval force, and that was that. The inability of raiders to win really significant victories was accurately put by President Cleveland's secretary of the navy, Hilary A. Herbert. In his day we had two ships especially designed for commerce destroying—the Columbia and the Minneapolis. They could overtake anything then afloat, but they were not heavy enough to stand up to the battleships of the period. Mr. Herbert was skeptical of their value in war and wrote:

"The military value of a commerce destroying fleet is easily overrated. They create consternation among merchants and worry the people against whose property they are directed but, unsupported by ships of the line, their operations are perhaps never decisive of a war."

He goes on to present historical support of this thesis. If there is any exception to the rule it may be found in our war of 1812, but the circumstances at that time were exceptional. Britain suffered greatly from the damage inflicted by our privateers, but that was because the British were attempting to blockade not only the nearby harbors of Europe but also the whole American coastline on the other side of the ocean. Instead of an occasional raider breaking thru the cordon, scores of them were on the loose, and the damage they did was correspondingly great. The British were glad enough to call that war off, but the pressure of the raiders at that time offers no parallel to the present situation, for the ports which must be watched are relatively close to Britain's own ports.

ROYAL DEMOCRATS IN RETIREMENT.

Carol of Rumania and Mme. Elena Lupescu, on their way from Bermuda to Cuba, stopped at the Virgin Islands and on American territorial soil for the first time drew renewed strength for their democratic faith. Gov. Charles Harwood, without any Ellis Island immigration officials to embarrass him, extended the hospitality of the islands and entertained the former king and his companion.

It must have been a solemn moment for Carol to find his feet resting upon the soil of an American possession and as a democrat breathe the air of such liberty as the Virgin Islands have. He has gone on to Cuba as the guest of Batista and among the flowers of that other free land will await the turn of events in Europe.

Sam Brewer of THE TRIBUNE, in reporting the arrival of King George II. of Greece in Egypt, related that his majesty made a democratic retirement from Crete soon after the Germans attacked on the morning of May 20. He started on foot with a platoon of protecting troops, slept in a cave, ate bread and cheese, and made the last stage of the journey over the hills to the coast on a mule. On his arrival in Egypt he issued an encouraging proclamation to his embattled subjects on the island to fight on bravely for democracy.

Peter II. of Jugo-Slavia, in Jerusalem, is reported to be anxious to set up the royal democratic residence in Canada, where he would like to become a member of the air corps. It is not the policy of the European democracies to expose their royal families to undue risks and Peter will probably be persuaded to keep himself safe for a return to the throne if the upstart autocracies are finally overthrown and the world is made safe for the older dynasties. If Peter gets to Canada his arrival will give the dominion the representatives of five European royal houses who are refugees from their countries.

The Crown Princess Juliana and her children, former Empress Zita and several of her children, Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxemburg and family, and the crown princess of Norway and her children are domiciled in the Canadian provinces.

The only one of the continental monarchs who remained to share the fate of his country was the one who was most criticized. Young Leopold of Belgium rather than sacrifice his army, uselessly as he thought, surrendered himself with it. For that he was condemned as a deserter from the democratic cause, altho in a letter to Mr. Roosevelt he explained that there was nothing else for him to do inasmuch as the plight of his divisions offered no chance of resistance. He did not from a foreign refuge exhort his soldiers to fight on. Nothing much is heard of him, but he no doubt is exposed to no humiliations other than one of the spirit and is not in want or discomfort.

With the exception of the duke of Windsor, the British royal family has remained at its post. The bombs have fallen on Buckingham palace just as they have fallen on the hall of the house of commons. The king and queen have offered themselves as an encouragement to the steadfastness and courage of the people in a war which is killing more civilians than soldiers. The duke of Windsor may not have disposed of himself according to his own will. There is no reason to believe that he as king would not have shown the same qualities displayed by the brother who succeeded him.

On the continent the kings have not led the last charge of their forces for the four freedoms. The royal families were the first to leave. The last sacrifice for their countries under the banners of democracy will have to be made by some one else.

When the people of the United States are told that they must rescue continental Europe from the persons who now control its destinies, are they to understand that they are to fight to the last American to put the princelings back on the thrones from which they ran away in their countries' hour of need?

DAM TROUBLE HITS PEAK IN OKLAHOMA.

[Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger.]

The federal government's troubles with dam building were intensified by the visit to Washington of a delegation from Rogers and Nowata counties in Oklahoma to protest against the proposed $8,000,000 dam on the Verdigris river at the old stamping ground of Will Rogers. The delegation appeared before the house flood control committee.

It is the contention of the men from Rogers and Nowata counties that the proposed dam is not needed for flood control and that its construction would be merely in furtherance of the scheme to make the Arkansas river and its tributaries in eastern Oklahoma "navigable." They say such a dam would ruin 65 per cent of the stripper oil wells of that area, where 10,896 wells are pumping 13,797 barrels per day. They estimate there are 235,000,000 barrels of petroleum still to be recovered in the field.

These Oklahomans declare that if flood control dams are necessary on the Verdigris they should be located near the headwaters in Kansas. But Kansas has already argued that out. When the federal government wanted to build several dams on the Neosho and the Verdigris in southeastern Kansas there were strenuous protests against permanently inundating valuable farm lands as a flood control scheme.

Certainly these farmers do not want the dams now that Oklahomans themselves are admitting they are of no use save to further the "navigability" of the Arkansas river from Tulsa southward.

OLD GRANITESIDES.

(A requiem for the Auditorium theater, slightly in the manner of Oliver Wendell Holmes.)

Ay, ring her shabby curtain down,
And ridicule her age!
Yet many an eye has danced to see
The shows upon that stage.
She was a shrine of splendid song
And soaring symphonies;
There Thomas played and Patti trilled—
In better days than these.

Her boards where oft young Romeo sighed,
And Falstaff quaffed his ale,
Where Faust betrayed, and Tristan died,
And Valkyrs rode the gale,
No more shall feel the tenor's tread
Or toes of Ballet Russe;
She's permanently "in the red"—
So much the worse for us.

O, better that she die in flames
Or sink beneath the sand,
Than live an empty, haunted house,
Forlorn, despised, unmanned.
Write "finis" to her story proud,
Wreathe vine leaves in her hair,
Transform her to a cabaret,
Garage, or movie lair.

In Favor of Shorter Speeches.

The "short short poem" idea suggests that briefer orations also might be in order. The following example may serve as an illustration of what is meant. The title of this address is "National Recovery." The speech: "Mr. President, fellow Americans: Emergence from emergencies is the key to national recovery. I thank you." Radio and other speeches of this or shorter length would save millions of dollars, millions of hours, and millions of collars. The idea also suggests a short poem entitled, "Advice to Orators in Hot Weather":

If you must snort,
Make it short!

Newcomer.

A MODEST "IF."

If smile of mine shall make the road
Of some sad soul seem bright,
If word of mine shall ease the load
Of some one's cares at night,
If little children come to me
And shyly take my hand,
If ancient folk feel I can see
And clearly understand
Their little hopes, their greater fears,
And smiling speak my name,
I shall not cavil tho the years
Bring neither wealth nor fame,
That graven stone, nor lettered brass
Mark not my resting place,
If but these things may come to pass
Thru God's eternal grace.

The Duke Plans a Holiday.

Hon. Linemaster: Being weighted down with 18 bucks of financial worries and a mess of her new recipe potato dumplings, I found myself a bit groggy last night, so after eatin I stretches out on tha back porch an I'm dozing handsomely when she busts me in the siesta with "I hope you made plans fer me an you an tha kids fer Decoration day." Well, I aint even given it a thought but I tells her I'd see my architect in the morning.

Her dope is that we pack a lunch and go to tha Brookfield zoo. When it comes to driving 10 miles just to see a lotta monkeys parading their red and purple sunsets I'll take my rainbow gazing outa tha sky. In trying to talk her out of this nut excursion I emphasize tha fact that Decoration day is a solemn occasion and should be celebrated as such and then she throws up tha fact that if she remembers rightly last year I followed that proceedure by getting myself gloriously decorated.

The last time we went a-zooing I gotta answer more darn fool kid questions than you cood shake a stick at. Mary wants to know why they paint tha zebras and not the elephants. She gets told it wood cost too much. Joan asks if people eat giraffs an when I tells her no she says, "That's good, daddy, cause you never like the neck." [Tha kid's clever.]

Then it's Mary's turn again with "Daddy, let's go over an see some snakes," and tha mama says that daddy sees em so often he woodn' be interested. After walking 5 or 10 miles I was gonna rent one of those 50c wheel-chairs an she said that as long as I was gonna need one permanently before long I shood ask if they wood take the 50c as a down payment. She'd buy tha Brooklyn bridge. Duke Bakrak.

P. S. Providing they'd take instalment payments.

TIRED GARDENER'S PRAYER.

Dear Lord, there's been so much to do all day
I haven't found the time to kneel and pray;
And now, tho night is near, I can't forget
This bed of seedlings, still to be re-set.
But, Lord, You are so very wise and kind
I think You'll understand, and will not mind—
You are a gardener, too, Lord, and You know
The care it takes to help Your flowers grow.
Perhaps You'll even stop to watch a while
And bless my busy trowel with Your smile.
And I think, when You see me kneeling there,
You'll know those white petunias are my prayer—
For every evening, all the summer thru,
They'll send a prayer of perfume up to You.

PAD DROPPED ORGANS WITH FAT.

A BAD posture may signify nothing but an ambitionless slouch. On the other hand, it may indicate that the victim's abdominal organs are "on the loose." With the patient unaware of what is going on, the internal machinery may form the habit of sagging quite too low for comfort. As age advances we may expect increasing laxity of the abdominal wall. Nevertheless, during the greater portion of life's span, we have a right to assume that the stomach and intestines will remain where nature placed them.

Of course, there are a number of causes which may assist this meandering tendency. Frequent childbearing, severe physical exertion, poor nutrition, and even flabbiness due to too little physical exertion may be factors. The importance of the condition cannot be overstated when we realize that the blood vessels which feed these structures may become cramped [pressed upon] or distorted so that too little circulation will reach vital areas.

In most instances the diagnosis can be made at a glance—by merely observing the posture of the individual. Positive proof is offered by X-ray films. Those who are stoop shouldered, with a hump high in the back, and with a sizable protuberance in the lower portion of the abdomen, typify the picture.

Surgery is rarely needed. The chief objective is to restore and maintain body stance. The inclination to wilt, to sit on one's back, should be watched even in childhood. Breathing maneuvers will be helpful, with the patient in a reclining position. He is then instructed to contract the muscles of the wall tightly. Holding them taut, he breathes in and out three or four times. Relaxation then follows, whereupon the procedure is repeated.

Well fitted corsets, girdles, or binders are of the greatest value. But these should be utilized if possible at the very beginning rather than after the disorder has existed for years. They will do some good, however, in any phase of the deformity, but will prove corrective only when employed early. Sometimes shoes are at fault.

Because most of these victims are thin even to the point of emaciation, extra feeding is nearly always in order. This means small but frequent meals—at least five per day. The object is to deposit a substantial quantity of fat about the organs [not beneath the skin] so that the latter will be supported. This is the best padding possible and, when evenly distributed, it will come nearer to effecting a cure than any other plan.

It may be necessary to increase weight by 20 to 30 pounds before the parts will be restored to anything like their normal location. Butter, milk, and cream constitute the best edibles. They are easily digested and, with but a small amount of exercise, little of the oily material will be burned up. Many of these persons can take 4,000 to 5,000 calories per day on a rest program which will cushion nerves as well as supply props along the digestive tract.

After two or three weeks of stuffing, outdoor gymnastics may be begun. In the meantime a stout abdominal belt will permit walking without undue dragging. Bending the trunk forward on the hips until the toes can be touched with the fingers is suggested. The knees should not be flexed.

The patient must keep in mind the fact that an erect figure and calisthenics—plus bundles of internal fat—will in turn bring sufficient tone to the anterior muscles to hold all the structures in balance.

CERVICAL RIBS.

F. O. writes: You referred to cervical ribs recently. What are these structures?

REPLY.

The neck region should contain no ribs. Occasionally one or more will appear—attached to the spinal column. They project laterally. These superfluous bones may cause pressure, with pain.

SEASICKNESS.

E. W. writes: We are going on a cruise and I dread it because I am not a good sailor. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on motion sickness, which applies to train, auto, and boat trips.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

RIGHT HERE AT HOME.

Maywood, Ill., May 26.—The people who are constantly deploring the muzzling of the press and free speech in dictator countries should forget Europe and write their own state senator and three representatives and ascertain why they continue to aid and abet those Illinois dictators who have deprived us of our constitutional rights by refusing to reapportion the senatorial districts every 10 years.

When you consider that this important law of equal rights has been openly violated for over 40 years by both Republican and Democratic administrations I think it is time that we forget Europe's squabbles and protect our own heritage. As long as the people rule we shall have freedom. JOHN JOSEPH RYAN.

A SPRING IDYLL.

Rockton, Ill., May 26.—Our land is safe! The trees stretch their leafy arms to heaven, sure of the warming rays of the sun and the healing comfort of the rain; a haven for song birds the summer thru.

We plant our seeds in the good earth, expecting a full harvest in flowers, vegetables, and grain. The country has abounded in wild flowers—a carpet of magic in any forest or woodlot. The fruit trees have furnished a barrage of snow-white, and rose-pink blossoms, fragrant as only spring's first blooms can be, and now they are gone. The lilac has been showering amethyst drops around us, while the bridal wreath and columbine have been vying for our first attention.

Days are getting longer, the chorus of the birds [a hymn of praise to their Maker we like to think] in early morning is a thrilling experience that never ceases to intrigue us as we try to recognize each bird's song.

Thus we are slowly emerging into full summer, blessed in every way. Yes, our land is safe. Can we keep it so, honorably? A. E. P.

THE "FIX-IT" BOYS AND GIRLS.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., May 28.—Well, I see the "fix-it-better" boys and girls are at it again down in Washington. If what we read in the papers about the National Nutrition congress is correctly reported they're certainly bursting with some new ideas.

Isn't there some way we can make up a principality for these immature folks who are always itching to fix things and let them get themselves in and out of the fix before they experiment on the rest of us? R. G. GARDINIER.

CISTERNS FOR SHELTERS.

Rochelle, Ill., May 28.—Notice—To fond New Dealers who have heard Mr. Roosevelt's warning of Hitler's impending invasion and who fear that Mr. La Guardia's [the Little Flower's] home defense program will be too late to save their precious necks, I have for rent or for sale cheap two excellent cisterns, 20 person capacity each. To those unable to pay will be glad to contribute standing space free. C. E. MOTLONG.

GOOD MEDICAL MEN WASTED.

Chicago, May 27.—Much of the problem of the shortage of physicians in a national defense emergency may be blamed upon the stupid system in the use of our present supply of medical material. There are thousands of competent, experienced physicians in the United States, who, because of age or slight physical handicaps, are no longer able to compete with the brisk, nerve-wracking pace set by modern hospital and clinical centers, yet whose judgment and ability are still unimpaired.

By the same wasteful system one sees assigned to these same medical institutions able-bodied men of 30 to 40 years of age, confined to desks in simple administrative and clerical duties, interviewing, taking case histories—minor positions that could be adequately filled by these older men. These younger physicians should be placed in active service.

Industry has called back the skilled workmen of 60 to 65, but then, management is far more efficient in business than in medicine. Time alone can give the fledgling medico just fresh from school the experience required to make the true physician. Let us conserve our human resources wisely. M. C. K.

MARRIED WOMEN IN CRA.

Chicago, May 26.—The Chicago Relief administration is employing scores of married women whose husbands are successful executives in private industry and the professions.

Despite the accepted practice to the contrary, there are still married couples drawing a double salary from CRA, while in many instances either husband or wife holds a lucrative position in a related agency, such as Illinois State Employment Service, Old Age Assistance or WPA.

Social workers have been hired after only one year residence in Chicago. Yet many of us recently let out in the periodic CRA lay-offs, have been sole supporters of unemployed fathers, invalid mothers, and minor sisters and brothers.

Isn't it about time for the Chicago Relief administration to establish a means test and residence law for its own personnel? Many of the career women who hold down jobs to buy themselves a few extra luxuries in life could be easily replaced by equally qualified persons who need to work to provide bread and butter and the basic necessities for their families. AN $85 A MONTH CLERK.

IN THEIR SAFE OFFICES.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 26.—You state editorially that in a recent speech Col. Joseph A. Baer said, without noticeable regret, that the American army is going to get into the war and you further state that very few staff officers were killed in the last war.

We are wondering if you could tell us how many assistant secretaries of the navy were killed in the last war, also if you have any information on the captains checking invoices at Dayton, O., as to how many were killed? If you can supply us with this information we would certainly appreciate it.

W. H. WORTHINGTON.

WATER IN APARTMENTS.

Chicago, May 28.—Summer is here again and with it comes increased water consumption with the usual joker—no pressure!

As manager of an apartment building I hear a continuous wail. "Manager, no water in my sink!" "Janitor, my toilet won't flush!" "Manager, I can't get enough water for a bath."

This is an average three story apartment building. We have a three inch water pipe from the main to the building and inside we also have a three inch pipe. But the water meter is only an inch and a half. Therefore I am still waiting for the water department to show me how to get sufficient water thru this small meter.

During the last few years my complaints to the water department have resulted in the installation of three new water meters. However they have all been the same old inch and a half size which cannot be called an improvement. Maybe there is some method of obtaining a larger meter but I have yet to discover it. RIGHT TO ESTATE.

Kankakee, Ill., May 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. My father died when I was small leaving my mother, my brother, and me. Mother married again and three daughters were born to this union.

2. Then mother passed away and subsequently two daughters likewise, leaving one daughter by the second marriage and my brother and me from the first marriage, and her husband, my stepfather. Now the stepfather has died intestate.

3. Should not my brother and I share in the estate? Also the four children of the two daughters of the second marriage who died? The remaining daughter of mother's second marriage took care of my stepfather [that is, she lived with him—he was not disabled] during the last 20 years and now this daughter feels that she can put in a claim against the estate which would use up all there is in the estate, leaving nothing for the rest of us. However, I feel we should be entitled to something.

If I am rightfully an heir to this estate what procedure would I use to make known that I am an heir? My half sister did sewing while she was at home with my stepfather and also received other money of small amounts from time to time so that she was not dependent on my stepfather. I feel that my mother helped my stepfather accumulate this estate and why should not I be entitled to a share, however small? J. P.

1. If "the estate" to which you refer originally belonged to your father then rights would depend in part on whether he left a will and if so on its wording. If the estate was in joint tenancy then it went to your mother as surviving joint tenant.

2. Similarly as to your mother's death, rights would depend largely on whether she created a joint tenancy and whether she left a will.

3. See 1 and 2.

[Provided by the America First committee.]

OUR FIGHT FOR PEACE IS ALMOST WON.

The President has spoken. He has proclaimed a national emergency. And now that the smoke is clearing, what does it all mean?

Lord Halifax is, beyond doubt, learning something about the way the President works. It is probably dawning on him now that what England got was an inflammatory speech, but none of the things she demands and needs so badly.

Britain's problem is now well known. She has two desperate immediate needs. One is for increased production of goods and for increased means of getting those goods to Britain.

But if we increase production now it would not do Britain much good unless we could get the goods to her. The grim fact is that Britain has not got enough ships to haul home what we are now producing. Steelmakers are actually sending her less steel than they sent last year—because of lack of ships. Therefore her second need is ships and more ships; ships convoyed to Britain by American war vessels. That is what she has been asking the President for.

Will Aid But Not Fight.

But the American people rose in their power and poured in on congress a mighty avalanche of letters and telegrams protesting against either ships or convoys. They protest because they know that means war. They are willing to aid Britain but not to the extent of going into her war.

Therefore the President stood in the center of a tug-of-war. On one side was Lord Halifax and the American war groups working with him to get us in the war. They were demanding convoys, merchant shipping, invasion of Dakar, a declaration of war. On the other side stood the American people calling on the President to stand by his pledge.

In that dilemma the President gave Lord Halifax and his American war propagandists a big speech full of inflammatory words. But he did not give them convoys or our merchant ships convoyed by our warships. He merely proclaimed a national emergency which really does very little good to England.

Can't Silence America First.

Under this proclamation the President can do certain things. But he can do only what the law permits him to do. He can close the stock exchange, he can take over the railroads, he can call out the nation's armed forces, declare embargoes, close ports, suppress strikes, and do various other things. But he cannot do the things the British need most without additional legislation.

He cannot silence the America First committee. He cannot stop meetings. He cannot suppress discussion. And we are certain he has no intention of trying to do these things. The only thing he could do along that line is to take over the radio stations. And they have been doing such a good job to get us into war that we need not fear about that.

As the smoke clouds drift away we see therefore that what the President has done is to resist the warmakers.

We must therefore be enormously encouraged. Our great fight—the fight of the great majority of the people—is bearing fruit.

The America First committee will increase its activities. It calls on all its members to increase their devotion and their work.

Our fight is almost won.

CLOSE RANKS.

"Today the whole world is divided between human slavery and human freedom—between pagan brutality and the Christian ideal. We choose human freedom—which is the Christian ideal."

In his great address on Tuesday evening President Roosevelt said what the vast majority of Americans wanted him to say.

He had warned before of the dire perils to our country from axis aggression. Then we were slow to heed his warnings. Some of us thought the menace was not so great as he knew it was. But events have proved that he was terribly right. As he said Tuesday:

"The war is approaching the brink of the western hemisphere itself. It is coming very close to home."

Course Is Charted.

We do not intend to sit idly waiting for Nazi bombs to destroy our cities. Our commander in chief has voiced our national policy, charted our national course. He has proclaimed a state of unlimited national emergency.

The nation must be—the nation will be—united behind his leadership The time for controversy is past. The time for action, united, effective action, is here.

Mr. President:

You have given the leadership the American people asked. You have put your finger on the threat to our very existence. You have acted courageously and wisely to meet that threat.

Support Pledged.

The Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies pledges you its unqualified support. Its every effort will be for national unity. Its more than 800 chapters thruout the country, its national committee and its national officers will devote themselves without stint to the cause of national unity.

In the words you yourself quoted from the Declaration of Independence:

"With firm reliance on the protection of divine providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

SEES NO CHANCE FOR CHANGES IN NEUTRALITY ACT

Notre Dame, Ind., May 30 [Special].—Representative Robert A. Grant [R., Ind.] told some 500 Notre Dame alumni today that congress is so divided that no drastic amendment of the neutrality bill would have a chance of passing.

National tolerance for personal opinions and freedom to air those without criticism provide America's chief bulwark against involvement in Europe's war, he said.

Representative Grant participated with other alumni in a forum discussion of political questions this afternoon as a part of the 97th annual Notre Dame commencement exercises, which will end with the awarding of degrees Sunday.

Raymond J. Kelley, Detroit, former national commander of the American Legion, declared that America's two chief needs are "a constant foreign policy which the average American citizen can follow and understand and a definite plan for paying for our war program."

Earlier in the day 22 university students were inducted into the naval air service as the nucleus of the "Fightin' Irish squadron."

Draft Exemption Bill Approved by President

Hyde Park, N. Y., May 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed a bill late today exempting from the draft all men who have served three consecutive years in the marine corps, coast guard, or navy. It also exempts men who have spent one year in any of the three services and two in the reserve. The exemption already applies to men who have been in the army. Otherwise the President spent a quiet day. He took a short automobile ride and spent some time on his stamp collection.

YOUTH KILLS SELF.

Vincennes, Ind., May 30 [Special].—Despondency due to unemployment was blamed by Coroner Paul B. Arbogast today for the death of August H. Wolfe, 20, who shot himself in the head in the garage at his home here late Thursday. Wolfe tried to enlist in the army recently but was rejected because of bad tonsils.

ARMY AVIATOR MISSING AT SEA OFF CALIFORNIA

Hamilton Field, Cal., May 30 (AP).—An army pursuit plane, carrying Lieut. Paul R. Rowe, 23, of New Rockford, N. D., disappeared off the northern California coast today while on a training flight.

Searching military planes and coast guard boats sighted an oil slick on the ocean off the Mendocino county coast where Lieut. Rowe was believed to have been forced down. An oil slick is left when a plane sinks.

Rowe and Lieut. Lacey F. Mangleburg, 24, took off at 9:15 a. m. from Hamilton field in P40 single-seaters. Fog began closing in and both pilots climbed to 15,000 feet and flew out over the ocean. Mangleburg missed Rowe and radioed him to take it easy and if the going got tough to bail out. Rowe did not reply. Mangleburg returned to the field and boats and searching planes were sent into the area.

2 PROPAGANDA 'ANALYSIS AIDS QUIT INSTITUTE

New York, May 30 [Special].—Two members of the board of directors of the Institute for Propaganda Analysis disclosed today they had resigned because they believed the institute was too critical of the policies of the Roosevelt administration. They were Prof. Eduard C. Lindeman of the New York School of Social Work and Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the University of Chicago.

Prof. Lindeman said the policy of the institute on war issues, did not conform with his own views. "I am all-out for intervention," he declared. "They did not seem to be."

Prof. Douglas said some of the analysis published by the institute in its monthly bulletins were "much more critical of many administration policies than I wanted them to be. I am ready to stand for what I myself believe, but I did not want to be used as sponsor for views with which I might not be in sympathy."

The institute publishes bulletins intended to "help the intelligent citizen detect and analyze propaganda" and conducts an educational service that reaches 1,000,000 pupils in 3,000 public and private high schools.

LAKE SEARCHED FOR INSURANCE BROKER'S BODY

Coast guardsmen searched yesterday for the body of Roy M. Boyd, a Chicago insurance broker, who was swept overboard Thursday night from his racing sloop, the Intrepid, about nine miles northeast of Waukegan. Boyd was 43 years old and lived at 40 East Oak street.

The tragedy was reported by Boyd's companion, Robert J. Scanlan, 29, of Grand Rapids, Mich., whom Boyd hired to help bring the sloop from Charlevoix to Chicago. Scanlan said Boyd went into the lake after climbing aloft to fix the spinnaker, that he threw him a life preserver, then lost sight of him. Scanlan was rescued by Harbormaster Adam Detloff of Waukegan and the boat towed ashore.

Sailors at Waukegan said two men could handle a sloop of the Intrepid's size, but that a four man crew was safer.

RUSH TO BECOME CHUTIST TROOPS AT FT. BENNING

Fort Benning, Ga., May 30 [Special].—Soldiers here like the idea of being parachute troops so well that there are more volunteers for training on the special 'chute towers than can be accommodated.

The steel towers, 250 feet high, cost $80,000 each. At the top are four arms and attached to each is a large cone from which the parachutes may be launched. Beginners are first hauled up, seated in a chair under an open parachute. Their descent correctly represents a leap from a plane, except that cables control it and absorbers take up the shock of landing.

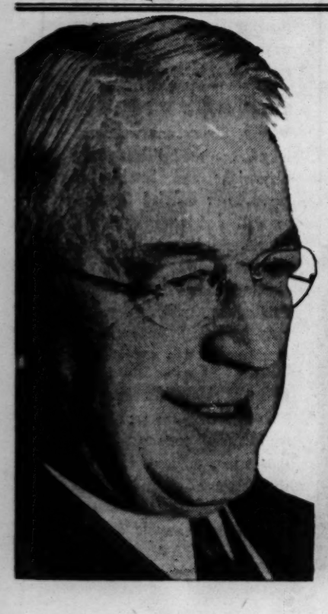
When the parachutist is accustomed to the height perspective and the sensation of dropping he is released from a "free fall" cone and learns the technique of landing safely without controls. The army already has trained 500 capable parachutists and expects to train 2,000 more before November.

Only Morons Think We're Not in War, Says General

White Plains, N. Y., May 30 [Special].—"We are now in the war and no persons except morons would think otherwise," Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, retired, director of the state "civilian defense commission" and world war commander of the 27th division, declared today at a Memorial day ceremony in Bedford village. "The isolationists are either awfully dumb or are being misled by leaders who appeal to their emotional reactions with epigrammatic phrases."

Winant Back from Britain for Report to Roosevelt

New York, May 30 (AP).—John G. Winant, United States ambassador to Britain, arrived from Lisbon today on the Yankee Clipper to report to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull on the war situation in England. He declined to comment on conditions. At Hyde Park, N. Y., where the President is spending the weekend, it was said the President would see the ambassador on his return to Washington Tuesday.



"My son is organizing his own firm"

"It is amazing how young people get on these days. We spent a lot on Jim's education, but it was the finest investment we ever made."

THOUSANDS SEE 73D PARADE OF WAR VETERANS

10 Grand Army Men Hold Places of Honor.

BY HERMAN KOGAN.

(Pictures on back page.)

Chicago's 73d annual Memorial day parade was witnessed by thousands of persons lined along Michigan avenue yesterday. It was one of the most unusual parades in recent years. For, aside from soldiers of the 210th coast artillery, sitting sternly in 90 trucks at the head of the parade, there were no smartly stepping regular army men or National Guardsmen.

To supplant these, however, were the 2,500 blue clad men of the new Illinois Reserve militia, striding down the avenue with rifles slung over their shoulders.

10 Grand Army Veterans.

The perennial favorites of the day were present, too—those aged few of the Grand Army of the Republic. Ten of these civil war soldiers, each in an automobile, rode in the procession, their spirit typified by their commander, Capt. Thomas G. Ambrose, who left a sick bed in St. Luke's hospital to take part in the parade.

They were among the first, along with Gov. Green, Senator Wayland Brooks, and Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel of the 6th corps area, to reach the reviewing stand at the Congress street plaza.

There, from front row chairs, they responded briskly at first, then less firmly as group after group, drum corps after drum corps, tramped by.

Once, when a regiment of Spanish-American veterans passed, their arms raised in salute, A. E. Gage, 97, long and lank, rose to his feet with a wild whoop.

"'Ray for you, boys, 'ray for you!" he shrilled. The veterans abandoned their dignity, grinned, and waved to him and his comrades.

Recall American Epics.

The 30,000 marchers included men of many races and creeds. They represented many a great event in the nation's history.

Behind the civil war veterans came the Spanish-American war soldiers, one or two of them jammed into the tight khaki trousers and deep blue shirts of fighting days. Then the hundreds of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the thousands of the American Legion. And, finally, the youth, personified by the cadets of the Reserve Officers' Training corps, the Boy Scouts and the Sea Scouts.

The marching over, a squad from the reserve militia, at the foot of Gen. John A. Logan's statue, fired a gun salute for the fallen warriors. The crowd sang the national anthem. A bugler sounded taps.

Other Events of Day.

Despite a rainy morning, other traditional aspects of the holiday were not neglected.

In many cemeteries flowers were heaped on the graves of soldiers. The largest gathering was in Rosehill cemetery, where William F. Waugh, state commander of the American Legion, spoke to an assemblage of 5,000.

The "boys in gray" who fought for the Confederacy were honored, too. At the Confederate monument in Oak Woods cemetery, where lie 6,200 soldiers, services were conducted by the Illinois Daughters of the Confederacy.

The weather curtailed holiday outings of Chicagoans who remained at home, but estimates by police and the Chicago Motor club indicated one of the heaviest traffic movements in years.

Picknickers were rained out of forest preserves and attendance in parks was below normal in the morning. At parade time, however, the clouds faded and many of those whose outdoor events had been spoiled came to the loop to watch the parade.

STABBED ON STREET BY NEGRO.

Patrick Keaney, 29 years old, 709 North Dearborn street, was stabbed by a negro yesterday morning in front of 620 North Clark street.

HOLD MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES IN FRANCE, BRITAIN

VICHY, France, May 30 (AP).—A little group of Americans from Paris attended today a brief and solemn Memorial day ceremony in the American war cemetery at Suresnes, where 1,541 world war dead are buried. It was the first Memorial day under the German occupation of France. A memorial service was held in the morning in the American cathedral church in Paris.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 30.—Two hundred Americans attended Memorial day services today in the church of St. Margaret, Westminster, in honor of American soldiers and sailors buried in the British Isles. Many wore the badges of voluntary workers in British civil defense units or uniforms of the ambulance and fighting forces.

The lesson was read by Herschel Johnson, United States minister-counselor in London. Mrs. John G. Winant, the wife of the American ambassador to Britain, Anthony Drexel Biddle, ambassador to the refugee allied governments here, and members of the embassy staffs were present.

Tribute to the war dead also was paid at the Cenotaph, the monument to Britons who died in the last great war. Members of London Post, No. 1, American Legion, participated in the ceremony.

Pastors to Map Army Camp Religious Work

The "Committee for the Christian Defense of Youth in Military Service," an organization of ministers of Chicago and northern Illinois churches, will meet today at the North Chicago Presbyterian church, 16th street and Sheridan road, North Chicago, to discuss a religious program directed principally toward the military training centers in this area. Dr. Dwight Bradley, national director of the program, will speak.

'GUARD LIBERTY,' GREEN IMPLORES 500 NEW VOTERS

Oak Park Citizenship Rally Hears Governor.

Gov. Dwight H. Green, in a speech last night at the annual citizenship recognition service in the Oak Park High school, told 500 young people who attained voting age this year that "the benefits of citizenship are created by liberty and by freedom of opportunity."

"No nation or no peoples," the governor said, "shall be poor if they are in love with liberty. They who give up essential liberty for the encroachments of doctored theories deserve neither that liberty nor that safety. I know that you Americans will never make that sacrifice."

The young men and women, who were guests of the American Legion and 69 other civic organizations of Oak Park, were presented with citizenship certificates by the Legion's Oak Park post.

Hails Courage of Americans.

"The object of this meeting," the governor asserted, "is indeed a noble one. It brings together those whose appreciation of citizenship has inspired them to impart its glories to others and to those who stand upon the threshold of adult citizenship ready to receive its blessings.

"Half the world we know today is torn with the sorrows of oppression and intolerance and the tragedies of war. Individual freedom of men and institutions has been made a mockery by those who would force their fallacies upon their saddened peoples.

"Even our own land, here at home, is disturbed by uncertainties, and by the preachings of some who would follow the ideologies of centralized governments. It is now that good citizenship is the world's greatest need, and we must depend upon you and your high regard for citizenship to defeat those forces which would destroy the civilization it has taken centuries to build.

"Faith Must Be Restored."

"When we speak of American citizenship, we also speak of the form of government which guarantees that citizenship. It was conceived in the clear and far sighted minds of its founders, and it is based upon liberty, freedom of opportunity, and the equality of man. Faith in this form of government must be restored and strengthened, and government itself must justify that faith by insuring the representation of citizenship which is your heritage, and your guarantee of opportunity for all.

"As you take your places in the ranks of citizens who are determined that the American way of life shall tolerate no encroachment upon its freedom, you are armed with invincible weapons. To you has passed the greatest of all doctrines—that all men and women are created free and equal, and that government is by the people and for the people."

MILWAUKEE HONORS MITCHELL'S MEMORY AT GRAVE CEREMONY

Milwaukee, Wis., May 30 [Special].—Maj. Gen. William Mitchell, penalized by superiors in the war department after the world war because he foresaw more clearly than they the part aviation was to play in future wars, was honored at his grave today by citizens here.

The son of one of Milwaukee's most distinguished families, Gen. Mitchell enlisted as a private in the infantry in the Spanish-American war. He advanced thru the grades, and in the world war he commanded the air forces of the AEF. After the war he crusaded so strongly for the United States to equip its army with modern fighting planes that he incurred the wrath of his superiors and was court martialed. In 1926 he resigned.

Modern military history has proven how correct Gen. Mitchell was in his estimate of aviation.

Around his grave in Forest Home cemetery today there was a large assembly of friends, aviators, veterans, and others to hear a eulogy by Mayor Carl Zeidler while planes from Milwaukee's 126th observation squadron flew low over the grounds.

THRUOUT WORLD CITIZENS OF U. S. HONOR WAR DEAD

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Americans the country over—and in war battered Europe, too—carried on the great Memorial day tradition of special honors for the nation's war dead yesterday.

From the tomb of the unknown soldier on the green slope overlooking the broad Potomac to village cemeteries far away, salutes were fired, graves were decorated, and taps were sounded.

The holiday was so widely observed that it brought with it a pause in much of the nation's intensive armament preparations. Many principal aircraft plants, which have been working 24 hours a day, closed until Monday. Civilian employés at naval shipyards were given a holiday. Government offices in Washington were mostly empty.

But at Greenfield, Mass., the holiday program included the dedication of a new munitions plant, one of seven for which the war department let contracts last fall in an effort to double the country's production of fine gauges used in the inspection and manufacture of war implements.

'YANKEE' TROOPS AT LOUISIANA'S MEMORIAL DAY

Baton Rouge, La., May 30 (AP).—The governors of Louisiana and Iowa, flanked by the first northern troops in 78 years to enter the national cemetery here, praised the nation's unity at Louisiana's unprecedented Memorial day celebration today.

While troops from Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, and Minnesota stood under the blooming magnolia trees of the Union cemetery, Gov. Sam H. Jones welcomed the men.

Gov. George A. Wilson of Iowa declared, "we are all happy that both states are part of an inseparable union. . . . Let us resolve that we will carry on to the end that freedom will continue to reign thruout the United States."

Last Saturday in May Is Great Day for Brides

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE last Saturday of May is as crowded with weddings as a Saturday in June. The most recent addition to those planned for today was that of Miss Anita Smith and Radford Van Ness, which was advanced from June 28 when Mr. Van Ness received a call from his draft board.

Aside from the change in the date, and the lack of time to finish the bridesmaids' dresses exactly as they were ordered, the wedding details remain the same.

The service will be read at 5 o'clock in the Lake Forest Presbyterian church by the Rev. Oliver Brackett, and a reception will follow at the Lake Forest home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunlap Smith. The wedding will be small, as the bridegroom's family is in mourning for his father, the late Gardiner B. Van Ness.

Old Family Veil to Be Worn by Bride.

Miss Smith is to wear an old family veil that was worn by her mother and her sister, Mrs. Albert B. Dick Jr., and the latter's daughter, Mrs. A. Werk Cook, and several other brides in the family. Mrs. Cook [Helen Dick] is to be Miss Smith's matron of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith gave the bridal dinner last night at the Onwentsia club and Mr. Van Ness had his bachelor dinner the preceding evening. Another aunt of Miss Smith, Mrs. C. Frederick Childs, gave a luncheon for the bridal party yesterday. The bridesmaids and ushers who gathered at her Lake Forest home were Miss Mary Faith Wilson, Miss Margaret Ann Burrows, Miss Anne Stuart, Miss Marie Louise Hulburd, Miss Grace Shumway, Mrs. Joseph C. Belden Jr., Lawrence Smith Jr., who arrived yesterday from Hotchkiss; Gardiner Van Ness Jr., who is to be best man; Chauncey K. Hutchins, John J. Borland II., Garfield King, Walter C. Coleman, and John Davis.

Weather permitting, the reception will be held out of doors. Mr. Van Ness and his bride will go away for a few days. They hope to have a longer wedding trip later.

Miss Elizabeth Brown, eldest of the William B. Browns' daughters, and Dudley F. Jessopp will be married at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Browns' Wheaton home. The Rev. Robert B. Stewart of the Wheaton Presbyterian church will read the service, and a reception will follow.

Miss Brown will be attended by her sisters, Miss Ruth and Miss Janet Brown. Dr. Tom Paul of Evanston will be the best man. Mr. Jessopp and his bride will make their home in Highland Park.

W. L. Cherry Jr. Weds Virginia Ballard Today.

Miss Virginia Ballard and Walter L. Cherry Jr. will be married in the Winnetka Congregational church at 4:30 p. m. today. A reception will follow in the Winnetka Woman's club, given by the bride's parents, the Roger Kingsley Ballards of Winnetka.

Miss Ballard will wear an heirloom lace veil belonging to her great-aunt, Mrs. Harry Boardman of Highland Park. Here from out of town are her grandmother, Mrs. George Mansfield of Milwaukee; Miss Peggy Kimberley of Neenah, Wis.; Henry Zeising of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Arthur Graves and Arthur Jr. of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and their daughter, Natalie, of Indianapolis; Miss Nell and Miss Agatha Cherry of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cherry of Tama, Ia.

Mrs. John Howland of Elizabeth, N. J., will serve as matron of honor. With her in the bridal party will be Miss Marcia Ennis, Miss Martha Towle, Miss Natalie De Clerque, Miss Mary Louise Burgess, Miss Georgette Hill, Miss Helen Laros of Bethlehem, Pa.; and the bride's cousin, Georgia Gross of Milwaukee, who will be junior bridesmaid.

Roger K. Ballard Jr. will be best man. Douglas H. McKellar, Henry S. MacNeil, Robert Berger Jr., Arthur Sullivan Jr., Roger Crowe, John Q. Adams Jr., Lawrence Bagg, and Arthur Kniebler Jr. will usher.

Lewis Bernays, British consul general in Chicago, and his sons, Robert, Richard, and Peter, are in Boulder, Colo., today for the marriage of Miss Jessie Jean Smith to Richard Bernays. The ceremony will be at noon in the garden of the Arthur Hensley Smiths' home. Miss Bettina Smith will be maid of honor for her sister, and the bridegroom will have one of his brothers as best man.

After a wedding luncheon and reception, Mr. Bernays and his bride will leave for Banff and Lake Louise. They will be at home in Chicago the middle of June.

Katharine Lightbody to Be Wed in Capital.

In Washington, D. C., at 4:15 p. m. today Miss Katherine Jane Lightbody, daughter of the James D. Lightbodys of Glencoe, will become the bride of Lieut. Francis W. Parker III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Jr. of Highland Park. The ceremony will take place in the handsome St. Joseph of Arimathaea chapel of the National cathedral. The chapel is in the basement and its four corners are enormous rounded pillars.

Two white staircases, carpeted in red, lead down to the snowy white chapel, medieval in appearance. Over the altar is a colorful mural of St. Joseph at the cross. The tombs of Woodrow Wilson and Admiral Dewey are elsewhere in the cathedral.

Miss Lightbody will wear her mother's wedding dress of brocaded crêpe de chine trimmed with satin and lace. It has a peg topped skirt, so popular in 1913 when the dress was made. Miss Jeanne Parker will attend the bride. James Lightbody Jr. of Beverly, Mass., and Emerson Parker will usher. Lieut. Parker and

C., and Miss Vera Reece of Washington.

Brookhaven farm, the Elmhurst estate of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Riordan, is the setting for the marriage today of Miss Helen Margaret Riordan and Frank Richard Schueler Jr. The Rev. Edwin D. Miner of the Presbyterian church of Glen Ellyn will read the service at 4 o'clock.

The wedding party will be purely family, with the bride's sister, Marion, and Mr. Schueler's sister, Martha Louise, as attendants. Eric Schueler Jr. will be best man for his cousin, and the bride's brother, Stuart Riordan, will usher. Mr. Schueler, whose parents live on Lake Shore drive, will take his bride to Virginia Hot Springs for a month's wedding trip.

Miss Peggy Tudor, daughter of Mrs. Robert L. Tudor of Kenilworth, and Lieut. Frederick C. Reuchert will be married at 4:30 p. m. today in the Methodist church in Wilmette, the Rev. Erskine Jeffords officiating. A reception will follow at the Tudor home.

Tour of Homes on North Shore Stirs Pilgrims

BY BETTY BROWNING.

No loyal Chicagoan should miss the pilgrimage today to eleven of the north shore's handsomest estates. However widely he may have traveled, he is certain to feel pardonably proud—and perhaps surprised—at what he will find. A hasty glimpse yesterday revealed beauty and variety unsurpassed even in the country's more advertised garden spots.

"Success to Britain's wooden wall," the slogan on an antique grandfather clock carved with figures of Nelsonian sea dogs, reminded visitors to the Philip D. Armours' Tudor manor house that the purpose of the two day pilgrimage is to aid the British War Relief society. This rosy brick house with its park, tapestried lawn, lake and stream, might have been transported bodily from the English countryside.

Nearby, overlooking the lake, is the white brick Georgian house of the Lester Armours, its courtyard enclosed on three sides by the house proper, the guest wing and the servants' wing, all three linked by curving arcades.

"I came all the way from North Carolina to see this," exclaimed a young architect as he stood on the terrace of the Max Epsteins' home in Hubbard Woods. The gray roofed white brick façade overlooking the lake is pierced by two bay windows behind one of which is a circular library. At one side is the swimming pool and a gazebo or summer house on the edge of the bluff above the lake.

"Like a steamboat coming 'round the bend," cried one astonished visitor on glimpsing the Bertram J. Cahns' "house of day after tomorrow." No blossoms soften the severely tailored lawn about this long one story windowless structure with glass walls and a single chimney that does resemble a steamer's smokestack.

Inside, not a picture or a rug or a nicknack mars the "functional" simplicity of this house. Really lovely are the walls consisting of single pane window glass which make the rooms seem part of the wild woodland outside. The other walls are opague glass.

Other highlights of the tour: Mrs. James Simpson's beds of forgetmenots under clipped green trees and her beds of peonies and iris against a rose brick wall. The Arthur Dean Bevans' terra cotta roofed French manor house set among formal terraced gardens descending to the Skokie.

The Clarence C. Prentices' white brick house, exquisitely combining the Georgian and the modern, with its dining room carrying out the yellow and white of two Philpott murals, and the paneled library partitioned into sections. . . . The Vaughan C. Spaldings' small walled in garden ariot with peonies and iris and Mrs. Robert Cluett's small formal garden planted with matchless pansies, both of these overlooking the lake. . . . The Walter S. Brewsters' collection of 19th century French paintings hung on silver, gilt, or green walls, and their garden with its Milles fountain above the swimming pool, its terraces and walled in nook with antique bronze cherubs.

The William McCormick Blairs' early American house, which made interesting use of both stone and shingles, was open yesterday only. The Alfred E. Hamills are showing their house today only.

Good Morning!

Once upon a time, long, long ago, a musical comedy came along and took Broadway by storm. Its name was "Sunny" and Marilyn Miller played the title rôle.

Then—"Sunny" became a picture, with Miss Miller and Lawrence Grey playing the leads. Now—here it is again—and this time sunshiny Anna Neagle brings warmth and charm to the characterization of the actress who loves and is loved by a wealthy young man, but whose marriage to same is held up for a time due to the chicanery of the young man's folks and the simple, loving blundering of worshipful members of Sunny's troupe.

Sunny and Larry Warren meet during the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, where the "Streamlined Sawdust" company, of which Sunny is headliner, is playing. . . . From there on it's all todo and music, to a climax that proves not to be the climax; to an anticlimax that still doesn't wind up the action—and, at last, to the finalé. . . . This really shouldn't be. Makes you think of the guests who "simply must go" at midnight and, at three o'clock are still—going.

Be that as may, "Sunny" is nice, bright entertainment. Miss Neagle is always delightful, and she was never prettier nor more alert than in this number.

I like her best in straight dramatic rôles—but maybe you don't. Anyhow she has a neat way with comedy lines and situations. John Carroll is pleasing. Helen Westley as a gruff old rich woman is amusing and Ray Bolger proves that the "scarecrow" [see "Wizard of Oz"] could possibly—[POSSIBLY] outdance Fred Astaire. . . . The picture also sports a dancing seal and one of those purty white circus horses.

"Sunny" is lavishly caparisoned and has been brought up to date in the matter of costumes and dialog. Believe you'll like it.

See you tomorrow.

Motor Trip Memorabilia:

A week's motor trip in Virginia at this season of the year leaves behind memories of rolling country and mountains blue in the distance, of the fragrance of the honeysuckle that wreathes roadside fences, of rose gardens and box hedges, of pillared old houses and hospitality, of battlefield markers and historic towns. The Shenandoah valley and apple orchards. Winchester, and memories of Sheridan's ride. Up from the south at the break of day: Bringing to Winchester fresh dismay. Middleburg and the horse country and luncheon at the Red Fox tavern. Fairfield, ancient manor house of the Richardsons, which has been occupied by the family for two centuries, and nearby Rose Cottage, home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson of Chicago, with its fine old English elms.

Charlottesville and our hotel in a building designed by Jefferson, our room in what was once slave quarters that now overlook golf links. The beautiful quadrangle at the University of Virginia and the rotunda, designed in detail by Jefferson. Dunlaurel, the plantation home of Miss Mary Moon, charming Virginian who showed us property in the Charlottesville vicinity, also was a brainchild of Jefferson's. Monticello, Jefferson's own home; Ash Lawn, home of Monroe, also designed by Jefferson, with its fine boxwood garden; Bremo built by Gen. John Hartwell Cocke, associated with Jefferson in the founding of the University of Virginia, the Georgian mansion with the perfect proportions and old pink brick of exquisite color that has been in the same family since it was built in 1725. If you saw the movie Virginia you saw Bremo, and the block from which Madeleine Carroll mounts her horse to ride with the hunt is on the spreading lawn of Bremo. The granddaughter of the builder, and present owner, Mrs. Forney Johnston, who owns and lives at Lower Bremo when she is not at her home in Birmingham, happened to be at Bremo. We have close mutual friends and Mrs. Johnston took us thru the three Cocke mansions and told tales of her grandfather, young friend of Jefferson. He considered the education of his slaves of sufficient importance to maintain a schoolroom for the children where they were given a systematic elementary school education. The charts from which they learned to read still hang on the walls of the slave schoolroom at Bremo. One reads:

Gen-e-ral Wash-ing-ton was once a lit-tle child like one of us, But he would nev-er tell a lie.

A lesson on time reads in large capitals visible from the back of the room: Morning is from daybreak till 9 o'clock: Forenoon is from 9 till 12 o'clock: And the little slave children learned their "Cloth Measure" thus:

2¼ inches make a nail; 4 nails make a quarter; 4 quarters make a yard. The chart on "Long Measures" reads 3 barleycorns make an inch; 12 inches make a foot.

* *

At Richmond Mrs. David Morton took us thru her Tudor mansion, Agecroft, which stood for centuries in Lancashire, England, and which Mrs. Stoddard and her husband brought over in its entirety, aged oak timbers, Tudor rose decoration, exquisitely beautiful mullioned windows—one of them, in the great hall, 25 feet long and 10 feet high, having come over in one piece. An oriole window brings tears to the eyes it is so beautiful. One window glass has an inscription scratched in, allegedly done by Charles II. when he attended the wedding of a De Langley, of the family that once owned the ancient manor house.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

When legs first emerge from their winter wrappings they're hardly beautiful to behold. At least the ones we've seen in the first bathing suits and shorts looked pretty seedy.

That too white cast to the skin looks awfully naked, for one thing. Legs demand a slight tint of tan, don't you think? If the skin of yours is dead white, get out your tan promoters immediately.

Then there is the matter of rough, goose pimplish skin. Rout this with vigorous cream massage, followed by brisk scrubbings with warm water, a bland soap, and a stiff bath brush. And use some sort of balm or skin softener to keep the flesh smooth.

One balm that's sort of a two barreled affair and particularly good for hot weather use was formulated primarily for the relief of burning, aching feet. It's the product of a foot specialist.

It's immensely soothing when the feet are aching with heat and fatigue, and it also does wonders to restore the skin of the legs to velvety smoothness. It vanishes rather quickly and leaves no trace of stickiness. The lanolin in it is what makes it such an effective skin softener.

The skin of the leg is roughened by wind and weather as any one who lives thru a Chicago winter knows, but carelessness about drying the skin well after a bath is a contributing cause too many of us overlook. The skin should be dried thoroly and vigorously—it needs the friction of brisk rubbing to keep it normally smooth and free of roughness.

Nylon Nightie Makes Sirens of Shy Violets

BY REA SEEGER.

Timed exactly right, cool ideas for the most sweltering weather, and exciting enough to be almost shocking . . . here come the summer nightgowns of that fascinating new material, nylon! After the dresses and the fanfare over the stuff by the yard, these nocturnal nylons still lure the pennies and the crowds.

Still as ephemeral as a wisp of smoke, still sheer enough to be thinner than a veiled "illusion," nylon holds the record for long wear, so the price is not so exorbitant as it seems if you remember the sturdiness of the sheer.

You'll have yourself quite a time hesitating between the color finds. There's a lovely pale pink, a cool sugar white, and a black that takes your breath away, because of its shadow sheerness.

These nightgowns are made with plenty of yardage in the skirt [they're still the most transparent things in town] and the bodice is veiled over in fine black lace, a devastating combination for any one's money. All three colors are romantic enough to wear as a dance dress over a blending, swishing silk slip.

The lace is artfully smoothed over a swathed bodice top and covers the widened shoulder bands. The black over the white is particularly effective. And so is the subtle accent of thin black over the pink. They are unquestionably the most provocative beauties unpacked in years.

Any of them can be wrapped as a gift, a gift that will delight some appreciative nightgown collector, for they are as new as tomorrow's headlines and fragilely feminine enough to make a siren out of the most shrinking violet.

Hard Case

SYNOPSIS.

Carol McFee, whose father is about to lose his ranch to Tate Wallace because of a forged deed, asks Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw to help her prove the deed is forged. Wallace is blackmailing a man named Sholto to make him testify he witnessed McFee sign the deed. Will Usher, crook and enemy of Dave's, proposes that he and Dave kidnap Sholto and make Wallace pay a ransom. Dave agrees, thinking it will help McFee, but when he brings the kidnaped Sholto to Usher, he realizes he has been double-crossed and that Usher wants to collect the ransom and the reward on Dave's head. Dave escapes, goes back to town and finds that McFee has been arrested for the kidnaping and possible murder of Sholto. He helps McFee break jail in order to rescue Sholto and bring him back to prove McFee not guilty of murder. As they bring Sholto to town he is shot and killed and McFee is arrested for murder while Dave escapes. Dave feels that Sholto's real murderer was either Sheriff Beal, Deputy Ernie See, Lacey Thornton, McFee's disgruntled ex-partner, or Senator Maitland, McFee's lawyer, as these four men were the only ones who knew, besides Dave and McFee, they were bringing Sholto to town. Dave has good reason to believe Ernie is not guilty so he goes to Ernie and tells him why he thinks one of the other persons might be guilty. He persuades Ernie to help him steal the recorded deed and lay a trap for the murderer. He hides in the McFee ranch as Wallace moves in and takes possession. He steals Wallace's deed and while escaping he evens his score with Will Usher by pretending to Wallace that Usher was in on the theft. Wallace shoots Usher, but when he reports the theft he claims Dave shot him and three other men of his while escaping.

INSTALMENT XLII.

REWARD RAISED.

Wallace's eyes were hot with anger.

Thornton said, "Beal's got $10,000 reward money that was supposed to be put on McFee. But it ain't been paid off, because McFee walked into the jail, almost. Why not take that and put it on Coyle's head—dead or alive, because he killed four of your men. He's got $7,000 on it now. That would make $17,000 and——"

"I'll put three more to make it $20,000," Wallace said.

"Good. That's $20,000." He looked around the room. "Why, hell, every man in the county will give up his job or close his store to hunt Coyle. That's more'n a man earns in three-four years!"

"I'll do it!" Beal said, coming to his feet. "Ernie, get the word around town. Twenty thousand reward, and anybody can get it! And they don't have to capture him this time. They can kill him!"

Ernie, a little sick when he thought what a man would do for $20,000, went out to spread the word around town.

In an hour, all the stores except Badey's, all the saloons except Tom King's Keno Parlor were closed. The town was sold out of ammunition and horses were at a premium. In Yellow Jacket's main street there was a milling mob of riders, waiting to split up and start the biggest manhunt—and the longest—any of them could remember.

From the hotel lobby window, Carol, Lily Sholto, and Senator Maitland saw the posse forming, and watched it for an hour. Finally, when it split up and rode out of town in all four directions, Senator Maitland observed, "I wouldn't like to be in Dave Coyle's boots."

"You think they'll get him?" Carol asked, anxiously.

Maitland shrugged. "If there's any justice left in this world, they will."

"But Uncle Dan," Carol objected, "he's helped us."

Maitland nodded somberly. His seamed face looked weary today, and stern, somehow. He was sitting between Lily and Carol. He looked at them both and said, "I shouldn't be saying this, I know. I'm Bruce McFee's lawyer and friend, so I should be grateful to Dave Coyle for stealing that deed. It puts Wallace in the position of a trespasser now. He has no right, no title to the Bib M now. The disappearance of the deed and any record of it will defeat him in court. The Bib M is still the McFee place." He shook his head and made a wry face. "Still, I'm a man of conscience, I hope. I don't like to win my court fights in that manner."

Carol laughed uncertainly. "Neither do I, Uncle Dan, but it's been given to us, it seems."

"Certainly." Maitland looked gloomily out the window. "Still, it doesn't change things much, does it, my dear? Your father is still coming up for trial on a murder charge." He said with sudden passion, "The ranch be damned. I want your father free!" He looked at Carol. "Isn't that the way you feel?"

Carol nodded mutely. Maitland looked at his watch. "It's visiting hour now. Shall we go over?"

The three of them crossed the street, but at the sheriff's office their way was barred by Beal.

"No visitin' today," he said firmly.

"And why not?" Maitland asked.

Beal glared at him. "Don't ask me, Maitland. Figure it out for yourself. Your little outlaw friend has made you happy enough for one day. You can do without the visit."

Maitland said angrily, "Are you insinuating, Beal, that I had any connection with the theft of that deed?"

"I'm not insinuatin' anything, senator," Beal said shortly, angrily. "All I'm sayin' is that it looks as if you'd won your case out of court! I'm sayin' somethin' else, too. I got too much to do today without herdin' relatives of a killer in to weep on his shoulder. Get out!"

Maitland took the girls out, and since there was nowhere else to go, they went back to the hotel. A sudden weariness overwhelmed Carol in the lobby. She was sick of this, sick to death. She hated the town, she hated the hotel, she was without hope, bored to tears, and helpless as a baby. She envied Lily Sholto, who was so calm when the news came that Dave Coyle had hidden in the Bib M house and stolen the deed. Lily only smiled.

Carol said, "I'm going to my room, Uncle Dan. I think I'll try and sleep. If any news comes in, wake me."

Lily looked at her and didn't ask what kind of news. It was in Lily's face that she knew what Carol meant by news.

She let herself in, closed the door, and walked slowly over to the bed. Halfway there, she stopped, a small cry escaping her.

There, sound asleep on her bed, one hand folded under the pillow, was Dave Coyle.

Carol stood transfixed for a moment, then she tiptoed swiftly to the door and locked it. O, the fool, she thought; the reckless, headstrong fool!

She felt her knees go weak as she turned to look at him again. Twenty thousand dollars on his head, the whole of the county hunting him, and he was peacefully asleep on a bed in the hotel across the street from the sheriff's office!

And then Carol had a thought that warmed her, and made her feel important again. He trusted her enough to come to her when he needed shelter and rest.

Carol sat down, then, in the chair. She wasn't going to waken him. He was probably exhausted. She sat in the chair, still as a mouse, for two hours, as the sun heeled over and the room grew dark.

She was sitting there in a kind of dreamy trance when Dave's voice startled her.

"How long you been here?"

Carol started, and then looked at him. He was propped up on his elbows, grinning at her.

"Hours," Carol said. "Dave, why do you take the risk?"

"I wanted to talk to you," Dave said. He got up, stretched, yawned, went over to the washstand, poured out a basin of water, washed his face, dried it, ran a hand thru his unruly black hair, then came and sat on the edge of the bed, pulling out a sack of tobacco.

Carol said, calmly as she could, "Do you know there's a $20,000 reward on your head?"

Dave lighted a cigaret and said, "Is that all? Wallace is a piker."

"O, Dave!" Carol moaned. "You've done enough for us. Can't you get out of the country?"

Dave grinned around his cigaret. There was none of the insolence in his face now that Carol had seen before. He looked friendly. He reached in his shirt pocket, brought out a paper and held it in his hand. "Here's the deed."

"You shouldn't have done it, Dave," Carol said.

"Aren't you glad?"

"Yes, yes, of course."

"Sorry you cussed me out the other night?"

Carol flushed a little. "I—I am. Dreadfully sorry."

Dave grinned, and looked at the deed. "What are you goin' to do with it?"

"Destroy it, shouldn't I?"

Dave shook his head, and laid the deed on the bed. "I been figurin'," he said slowly, and looked levelly at Carol. "You think your dad will be acquitted?"

He had said casually, almost brutally, the thing that Carol had not even dared ask herself these last few days. But now that he had framed the question, Carol knew that she had already answered it in her mind. It was settled. She said softly, hopelessly, "No, I don't."

"Neither do I," Dave said. "So maybe I better tell you what I been thinkin'."

"You aren't going to try to break him out of jail!" Carol said swiftly, alarm in her voice. "Dave, it won't work again! Don't crowd your luck!"

"Listen to me," Dave said. He picked up the deed and held it in front of him. "That deed will get your dad out of jail," he said slowly.

Carol stared at him, not understanding. "But—but he's in for murder, Dave."

"Forget that," Dave said. "I know what I'm talkin' about. I've found out some things. You haven't got $10,000 to your name, have you, Carol?"

"Ten thousand? No," Carol said blankly.

"Has Senator Maitland?"

"No, he's poor."

Universal day—A family day. Join with friends in home festivities.

June-Universal month — Since in June there is going to be an emphasis on words, either written or spoken, we may expect many speeches from those who are anxious to influence the masses. Reports, rumors, and propaganda will run rife. Every one will have something to say or write about our world conditions, especially about the economic conditions and also about service and the duties and obligations of this and that nation or national "family." Some will be explosive in effect and some will be the result of superficial thinking, while much of it will consist in stressing the idea of making friends, promoting good will, and of cheering up the people so as to improve their morale. At least there should be a more cheerful note struck at this time, with the people being more hopeful in their attitude.

Miss Betty Leigh and Frederick W. Cooper Jr. will have just two attendants for their marriage at 4:30 p. m. in the home of her mother, Mrs. Ralph J. Rosenthal of Glencoe. Mrs. Richard Freund of Hinsdale is to be matron of honor, and the bridegroom's cousin, Byron Kanaley of Winnetka, best man. After a small reception Mr. Cooper and his bride will leave for Sun Valley. They will live in Chicago, where the bride's father, Carl Leigh, makes his home. Mr. Cooper's mother lives in Glencoe.

Miss Edith De Groot and Dr. Frederick Owen Priest will repeat their wedding vows at 8:30 o'clock this evening in Bond chapel at the University of Chicago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius M. De Groot, will give a reception at the Arts club following the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Russell Dicks.

Mrs. William J. De Groot of New York City will be matron of honor for her sister-in-law, and Mrs. Homer Lange will sing before the ceremony. Dr. Harry Boysen will serve as best man. Virginia Skinner First June Bride.

Miss Virginia Skinner, who will repeat her wedding vows tomorrow afternoon with Louis John Fellenz Jr., will be Chicago's first June bride this year. They'll have a country wedding in the Green Lake, Wis., home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skinner.

Only their two families will attend the ceremony at 4 p. m., to be followed by a reception half an hour later. Among the guests will be Eugene E. Hughes, Mrs. Skinner's father; her sister, Mrs. E. Hughes Giblin of New York, and the bride's cousin, Miss Margaret Weber of White Plains, N. Y.

Miss Jacqueline Aagaard will hold Miss Skinner's bouquet during the ceremony. Senator John Byrns, who has shared bachelor quarters with young Mr. Fellenz in Madison, Wis., will be his best man. During the summer Mr. Fellenz and his bride will be at home in the Skinners' guest house at Green Lake. The bridegroom is Wisconsin's youngest state senator and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fellenz of Fond du Lac, Wis.

Mrs. Charles G. Cushing and her daughter, Miss Nancy Cushing, who are visiting the Clarence Prentices in Lake Forest, will return to New York on Thursday. Mrs. King Mitchell is giving a luncheon for Mrs. Cushing tomorrow. Among the guests will be Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. Fuller Mitchell, who has arrived from California and is visiting the James Cooks.

THE STAGE

Samson Raphaelson, author of "Accent on Youth," the comedy opening at the Selwyn theater next Tuesday evening, will give a reception for his former classmates of William McKinley High school at the Blackstone hotel tonight. Mr. Raphaelson spent most of his childhood and youth in Chicago before attending the University of Illinois. In addition to "Accent on Youth" the list of his successful plays includes "The Jazz Singer" and "Skylark."

Two first line stage attractions end their Chicago careers tonight. "Cabin in the Sky" closes at the Selwyn, moving toward the west coast for engagements in San Diego, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. "Twelfth Night" leaves the Erlanger, to fulfill a single engagement next week in Maplewood, N. J., before closing for good.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., May 30.—A few days ago one of the local columnists scolded Bud Abbott and Lou Costello for thinking they were hot stuff and buying houses. Houses with swimming pools. Just on the strength of one hit, "Buck Privates." It didn't matter that the houses were in the $15,000 class, and that Bud and Lou, having worked around in night clubs and radio, probably could afford them.

It didn't matter that you can build a pretty good pool out here for $1,000 and pay for it on time. What did matter was the boys' assumption that they were here to stay, in a business where nobody but the self-perpetuating bosses is here to stay.

Well, no such scolding can be handed the Patrick O'Moores. They live in a trailer. They've lived in a trailer for two years and they love it. And it costs them only $4.50 a week plus groceries. Four dollars for the parking lot—on which they have a fine little garden—and four bits for electricty. The original cost of the trailer was $2,000, and should last eight or 10 years yet.

Patrick O'Moore was the bad penny in "Ladies in Retirement." When that play finished its tour Gilbert Miller wanted to put Patrick in another play, "RAF," but Equity said that, according to union rules covering aliens, Patrick would have to stay off Broadway for six months. So the O'Moores drove out here and he got a rôle in Jeanette MacDonald's "Smiling Through." Mr. Miller is holding "RAF" for him in New York.

Sure and you remember Mrs. O'Moore. She's Zelma O'Neal, musical comedy Hoyden. Remember the song, "Button Up Your Overcoat?" Remember the shows, "Good News" and "Follow Thru"? Well, she went to London in 1928 and stayed there most of eight years, and met Mr. O'Moore, who is even more Irish than she is because his father's name was Schroeder. He came to America to marry her and they decided to see the country in a trailer.

They got the idea of a trailer from Zelma's brother, a minister, who gave up his church and became a traveling evangelist. He had a trailer and liked it. Liked it so well, in fact, that when he again took a church and could have a real house, he stuck to his rubber-tired château.

The O'Moore's liked it, too, but ran short of dough. When they were down to $25 they drove to New York and Patrick scouted around Broadway and turned up the "Ladies in Retirement" job. They set up housekeeping in a camp across the Hudson at Inglewood, N. J. When the play went on tour they did too. Patrick couldn't risk being late, so he took trains with the company from town to town and Zelma drove the outfit.

Speaking of trailers, I saw Veronica Lake taking a shower in one yesterday. She had on a bathing suit but it didn't show for head and shoulder shots. The trailer, an elaborate thing with several rooms, has been built on a stage turntable at Paramount for Preston Sturges' "Sullivan's Travels."

This picture is about a movie director [Joel McCrea] who decides to go on the bum and do the Great Epic about the Real America.

Miss Lake was having her shower in the thing and the water was running and clouds of steam were rising. It was just lukewarm water running on dry ice. Makes lovely steam and doesn't burn anybody.

Sturges thinks Miss Lake is quite something—a creature of the films, like Mary Pickford or Douglas Fairbanks. This is her second picture ["I Wanted Wings" was the first] and already, he says, she knows more about acting than most babes of years' experience. She's a film creature because everything about her turns out just right in the camera. Her voice is unremarkable and a bit flat. But she is hot stuff to a camera lens, and on a sound track her voice is deep and mysteriously fuzzy. Sturges thinks she's going to be a star—not just somebody who happens to get top billing, but a real star.

Ever make angel food from powdered egg whites? I did, the other day, and got a good cake, too. Powdered egg white is handy, because it needs no refrigeration and is ready to use the moment you get cake, prune whip, or seven minute frosting ideas. A new process prepares the egg white so that it won't "clump" when water is added and preserves the natural sugar present in the liquid white.

You can use your favorite recipes with the new kind of egg white, but a dandy little recipe booklet comes with each package.

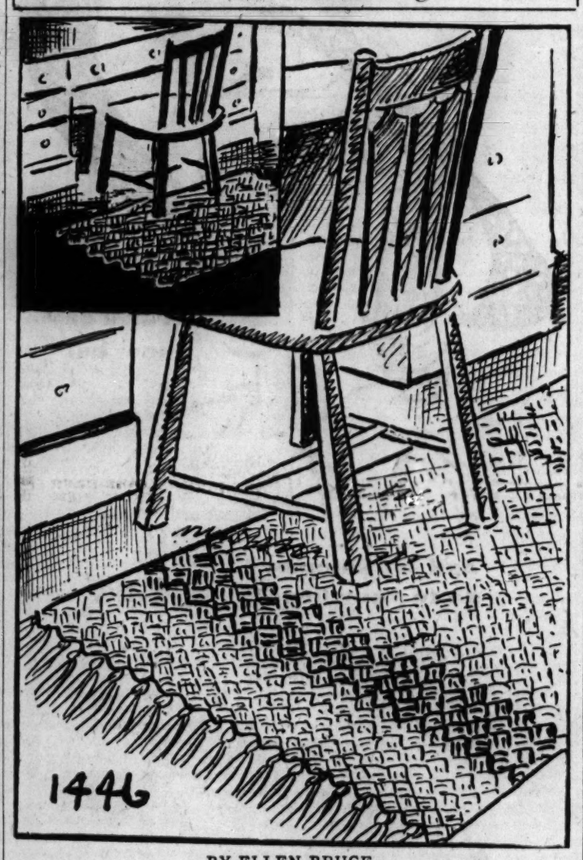
The famous Norwegian gjetost, or goat's milk cheese, is being made domestically along with many of the other cheeses we used to import. It has a dark color and a malted milk flavor, is an extremely healthful food, and keeps for long periods of time. Try it on the buffet table one of these times.

Picnic meats: Split frankfurters, insert a piece of cheese, or some mustard or piccalilli, then broil 'em. . . . Take along your own or a bottled barbecue sauce for the hamburgers or steak . . . try lamb shoulder steaks on an outdoor grill, cooking them just as you would steaks . . . try cubed lamb steak on skewers with onion, in place of the usual round steak.

A pound of white sugar equals, on the average, 2 cups; a pound of brown sugar, 2⅓ to 2¾ cups. In a pound of white flour there are about 4 cups; whole wheat flour, about 4½ cups.

Here's a delicious version of cole slaw: Add to the finely shredded, crisp cabbage, crisp, unpeeled slices of cucumber, a little grated onion, a little minced pimiento, and finely chopped green pepper. Use a dressing made of equal parts of chili sauce and cream, with a dash of lemon juice and a sprinkling of salt and pepper. If the chili sauce isn't a rather sweet one a pinch of sugar may not come amiss in the dressing.

Two Crocheted Rugs



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

There are a million and one places around the house in which to use attractive crocheted "scatter" rugs. A shell stitch and a block design are the two patterns used for these rugs. Boilproof and sunfast carpet warp are combined to create the unusually attractive mottled effec in the rug of the shell design. Orange and white carpet warp, used double, makes the successful rug done in the block pattern.

N. U. 91 Years Old; Its Vast Gains Recalled

Northwestern university today celebrates the 91st anniversary of its inception. On May 31, 1850, nine Chicagoans gathered in a frame building across the street from the Chicago courthouse and mapped plans which culminated in the establishment of a university to serve the northwest.

Seven months later, on Jan. 28, 1851, the Illinois general assembly granted a charter to Northwestern university.

Participating in the early discussions, which were originated by Grant Goodrich, lawyer and city planner, were Dr. John Evans, Orrington Lunt, Jabez Botsford, Henry W. Clarke, Andrew J. Brown, and the Reverends Richard Haney, R. H. Blanchard, and Zadoc Hall.

The first practical step toward establishment of the college was the purchase, for $8,000, of a tract of land 200 feet square at what is now La Salle and Jackson streets. First plans called for use of the site for a preparatory school, but Dr. Evans and Lunt, who supplied the money, decided otherwise. The land is still owned by the university and is occupied by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

A section of lakeside swamp land was purchased in Evanston. It was cleared for a campus and in 1855 the first building—Old College—was erected for a student body of 10 and faculty of 4.

Today, as the university observes its 91st anniversary, it has resources of more than 56 million dollars and 91 buildings on its Chicago and Evanston campuses. The student body numbers more than 6,500 and the faculty 1,087. Northwestern has 52,000 living alumni in the 48 states and 62 foreign countries.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Last Thursday's hand stressed the absurdity of finessing without need. Now, lest any one think I am a natural enemy of finesses, I hasten to record a hand in which a first-round finesse was by far the best play. Apparently, finesses are a sort of vice. They're sure to get you unless you can either take 'em or leave 'em alone!

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	1 heart	1 spade	4 hearts
4 no trump	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

North, with a seven card diamond suit which he had not rebid, should have bid six diamonds [seven would have been a laydown], rather than six spades, which was not nearly so good a contract.

West, rightly figuring that heart tricks for his side were remote, opened the club king, East signalling with the jack. Declarer studied the hand and saw that he was by no means safe. To lead the king and another spade would be dangerous. If he finessed against the queen, West might win and gobble up club tricks. If he went up with the ace and failed to drop the queen, the opponents would interrupt the running of diamonds and, as before, cash clubs. The heart ace, of course, was good for only one discard.

Another method of playing the hand [and the one I fear most players would use] was to discard a club on the heart ace, ruff a heart, ruff a club with dummy's six, ruff the last heart, and then ruff South's last club with the spade king. But this would be fatal. The play would then be in dummy, with no means of exit.

After due consideration, declarer hit on the correct line of play. On winning with the club ace, he led dummy's six of spades and played the 10 from his own hand. The logic of this play must be apparent. As it happened, West won with the queen, but he could make no return that would embarrass the declarer. A club continuation could be ruffed in dummy, the closed hand entered with a heart ruff, and the outstanding spades drawn, then the diamond suit run off for more than enough discards.

If had East held the guarded spade queen, declarer's 10 would have held. A spade return to the king, a heart ruff, and the laying down of the spade ace would have cleaned up the situation as before. Declarer's play was proof against any 3-2 spade division. If the spades had lain four to the queen in one hand and one in the other, the contract would have been virtually impossible.

Both Men and Women Should Use Deodorant

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

The following letter we print verbatim, because it covers adroitly a subject that never is a pleasant one to write about. Yet, it involves a theme whose importance cannot be overestimated in the scheme of attractive and charming women.

Too, we have had a number of women petition us lately to call the attention of the other sex to the problem which is as current among them, apparently, as among the fair sex, and just as objectionable.

So A. R. writes, "Dear Miss Donnelly: Now that the warm weather is with us, and since your column has a wide appeal, perhaps one day you would devote a column to the use of deodorants, to be used by both women and men. It is surprising how many women still do not use them, going on the theory that, if they bathe regularly, that will do. It is most offensive to fellow employés who do take extra precautions about their persons.

"The same holds true for men, altho I'm told more men are beginning to use preventive measures, which they should. Besides the body odor, one notices the odors emanating from clothes. Some people, and again men as well as women, don't seem to understand that clothes have to be aired thoroly or they retain the odors taken from the body."

U.S.-TO-ALASKA HIGHWAY ACTION EXPECTED SOON

Parley with Canadians to Be Held on June 12.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Sponsors of the proposed 25 million dollar highway from the United States to Alaska today expressed confidence that negotiations soon will be completed wtih Canada for a treaty providing for the 1,600 mile project.

Representative Warren G. Magnuson [D., Wash.], chairman of the Alaskan International Highway commission, which has been studying the proposed highway since 1938, said that a meeting of United States and Canadian committees will be held at Juneau, Alaska, on June 12 to discuss technical aspects of the highway's construction.

Defensive Value Is Argued.

Magnuson's commission recently submitted a report to Secretary of State Cordell Hull urging immediate construction of the highway as a precaution against invasion by way of Siberia. This report related that Alaska could be invaded by Russia, and the United States navy, without heavy icebreakers, would be powerless to prevent such an attack. A highway is vitally needed for rapid transportation of troops and supplies to the northernmost territory, the report argued.

Magnuson said today that top army and navy officials now favor the highway since assured that the costs would not be taken out of their regular appropriations but would be met in a supplemental appropriation. Presumably the United States would bear the entire costs of the highway and Canada would merely provide permission to cross Canadian territory and acquire the necessary land.

Fairbanks to Be Terminus.

The highway would extend from Prince George, B. C., northern terminus of the present United States-Canadian road system, to Fairbanks, Alaska, site of a huge army base. Transportation over this road would require only 60 hours, compared with seven or eight days at present, according to the commission's report.

Magnuson said that Secretary Hull favors the project, and with favorable military and naval reports forthcoming to the state department definite signs of progress can be expected soon. Experts contend the vast amount of military preparedness within Alaska will be for naught unless free communications are maintained with the continental United States. Already the army has moved 6,000 men into Alaska and established airplane bases. In addition 150 miles of road and a three mile railroad tunnel are planned.

Delay on Project Explained.

Altho widely urged, the reason the project has not been pushed before this, according to informed observers, is that there is little opportunity for "pork" in congressional approval. There is no direct benefit for constituents in the United States and the Alaskan delegate has no vote.

In connection with the project, proponents urge that a parkway three or four miles wide be constructed along the highway to maintain a game preserve for the length of the project. They also urge a light tax be imposed on ownership of mineral lands near the highway in view of expected development of resources thru construction of the road. Such a tax, it is argued, is preferable to a gasoline tax and would pay for costs of construction.

Push Road Project

BUS AND AUTO COLLIDE; FOUR CRITICALLY HURT

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30 (AP).—A Greyhound bus, en route from Chicago to Cincinnati, and an automobile collided southeast of here today, injuring several persons, four dangerously.

The automobile carried Ernest Spiegel, 32; his wife, and their daughter, Gertrude, 3, and Siegmund Jacobs, 40, and his wife, Toni, 30, all of Cincinnati. All except the child suffered dangerous injuries.

Mrs. Joanna Vollmer, 43, Evanston, Ill., en route to visit an ill son at Cincinnati, was the only bus passenger to require hospitalization, but several other passengers were hurt, including Miss Marjorie Padgett, 20, Chicago; Mrs. Grace Carlson, 49, Chicago; Ray Hensel, 31, Milwaukee, and Mrs. R. H. Marsh, 43, Rockford, Ill.

Witnesses said the automobile skidded on wet pavement and crashed head-on into the bus.

The bus driver, Harold Scheland, 27, Cincinnati, maneuvered the bus off the highway and brought it to a stop, upright, in a field. The automobile was demolished.

ARMY BUILDING CONTRACTS TO BE LET NEXT MONTH

Bids on several hundred thousand dollars worth of army construction projects in Illinois and Michigan will be opened between June 3 and 12, it was announced yesterday by Lieut. Col. E. C. Hayden, 6th construction zone quartermaster.

The contracts will cover more than a dozen types of building and construction at Camp Grant, Fort Sheridan, Rock Island arsenal, the Savanna ordnance depot, Fort Custer, and Fort Brady, Mich.

Chief among the projects for which contracts will be awarded are a 38 building addition to the Fort Custer reception center, a theater, administration building, hospital barracks, and hospital recreation building at Camp Grant, and two 63 men barracks at Fort Sheridan.

DOCTORS FAVOR BANNING NERVOUS MISFITS IN DRAFT

Many men being selected for the armed services have nervous systems that break under the stress of military life and it is necessary to eliminate this group if the army and navy are to function with full efficiency. This view was expressed yesterday by Dr. Elliott C. Cutler of Boston, Mass., in an article in War Medicine, a publication of the American Medical association.

"Combat," said Dr. Cutler, "is no longer a test of power only, but a contest in which brains may turn the tide to victory."

Other physicians participating in a symposium agreed that careful observation of selectees by doctors is imperative if the armed forces are to keep out persons lacking the required mental makeup.

VERDICT IN TRIAL OF NAVY FLYERS IS KEPT SECRET

Pensacola, Fla., May 30 (AP).—The court martial board which heard charges against two young navy flyers, whose airplane decapitated an Alabama farm woman, announced today acquittal of the men on certain counts of "unnecessarily endangering the lives of others," but remained silent about the principal charges of manslaughter and misconduct.

Previously Capt. Edward A. Montgomery, marine officer who served as judge advocate, said only acquittals would be announced here and any convictions voted would be transmitted to the navy department in Washington for announcement there.

Ensigns Joseph C. Thompson of Healdsburg, Cal., and Paul C. Brown of Chicago reported to their officers March 25 that the training plane in which they were flying over a turnip field near Robertsdale, Ala., had struck a woman worker. The woman, Mrs. Robert Phillips, mother of four children, was killed.

NAVY OPENS UNIT OF INTELLIGENCE BUREAU IN CITY

Establishment of a new naval intelligence office in Chicago, headed by Lieut. Cornelius Kelly, agent of the federal narcotics bureau here for many years, was announced yesterday by Commander B. O. Wells, 9th naval district intelligence officer.

Simultaneous announcement of new naval intelligence offices in St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Minneapolis, and Cincinnati indicated that the navy's detective bureau is finding considerable work to do.

The Chicago office will be in the United States customs house, 610 Canal street.

SHERIFF RAIDS BUND CAMP AND BANS MEETINGS

Andover, N. J., May 30 (AP).—Sussex County Sheriff Denton J. Quick and 15 special deputies broke up a meeting of 100 persons at the German-American bund's huge camp Nordland today, seized pamphlets, swastikas and pictures of Adolf Hitler, then warned officials no further gatherings could be held. One arrest was made.

Quick, declaring he was acting under the "authorization and direction" of State's Attorney General David T. Wilentz, said "this will break up the camp. If anybody comes here again we will send them home." The 210 acre property in the hills of northern New Jersey has been a center of controversy since it opened in 1937.

The raid was made at 5:30 p. m., several hours after Quick served notice on officers of the German-American Bund Auxiliary, Inc., of plans to introduce in the state legislature a bill to repeal its charter. Notice of intention must be served under New Jersey law before such legislation can be introduced.

GOV. GREEN SIGNS CIGARET AND OIL LEVY MEASURES

Springfield, Ill., May 30 (AP).—Gov. Dwight H. Green's signature converted into law today bills imposing a 2 cents a package state tax on cigarets and a 3 per cent tax on oil produced in Illinois. Both of the new taxes will become effective July 1.

The cigaret levy, estimated to produce 10 million dollars annually in revenue for the state treasury, was signed late last night by the governor only a few hours after its final enactment by the legislature. The chief executive had received from Attorney General George F. Barrett an advance opinion as to the bill's constitutionality.

Under the oil tax bill producers must pay into the state treasury 3 per cent of their receipts from the sale of petroleum taken from the ground after June 30. State officials have estimated this tax will yield $3,400,000 a year.

Both taxes were part of Gov. Green's revenue program to partially offset revenue to be lost when the sales tax rate falls from 3 to 2 per cent July 1.

SOX WHIP INDIANS, 7-1, 5-2; CUBS, PIRATES DIVIDE

LYONS AND LEE ROUT LEADERS BEFORE 37,565

Reduce Margin to Two Games.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

With an amazing amount of deadly pitching from the venerable Ted Lyons and the left handed Thornton Lee, not to mention more base hits than they actually needed, the White Sox galloped impressively to a point two games short of first place yesterday. It was all done quite simply as well as effectively by knocking the pace making Indians around in both ends of a double header before more than 40,000 folks, of which 37,565 were cash customers. The scores were 7 to 1 and 5 to 2.

Heroes were all over the playing premises during the 18 innings the hapless American league leaders were held in a trap. And all the heroes wore white sox. The 40 year old Lyons turned out a five hitter in the first battle for his season's fifth triumph, aided considerably by a three run homer from the bat of Joe Kuhel. Lee, whipping his former mates for the second time and getting his sixth victory of the year, put together a six hitter. He also was helped by Kuhel's sixth homer of the year, which put the southpaw in the lead in the opening inning.

Sox Hop on Al Smith.

Whereas Lyons went the route with practically no effort after yielding a run in the first inning, the Sox made quick work of Al Smith. They made him pay off for the second time for the shutout he slipped them in the opening series of the season. They gave warning by scoring twice in the first inning, both runs being driven in by Taft Wright. They nicked Al for another in the third and finished him off with a four run jolt in the fourth when Kuhel rounded out a four run incident by exploding the first of his two homers while a pair of mates were waiting on the bases. Ken Jungels went the rest of the way.

Lee's part of the day's work would have been more decisive if Rollie Hemsley hadn't hit a homer behind a single for the Indians' only runs. The second game was marred a bit by the injury of Julius Solters, only recently returned from a long layoff occasioned by a jammed left hand. As he rounded first on a single in the third inning, the Moose slipped and pitched over on his left shoulder, causing a dislocation which will stable him for three weeks. Mike Kreevich took over the vacancy, picking up a run and single later in the game.

Knickerbocker Annoys Old Pals.

Billy Knickerbocker gave an alumni touch to the first game by harvesting a walk, two doubles, and a single off his former mates, the single being the only one of these items that didn't figure in the run production. In the second affair, handled by Jim Bagby Jr., Clint Brown, and Joe Heving, each of whom surrendered runs, Knickerbocker drew only a pass. But others besides Kuhel filled in. Lee helped to drive in the third run off Bagby. Luke Appling's single made the pass to Knickerbocker produce in the third. And in the eighth Mike Tresh hit safely for the third time to drive in the last run.

FIRST GAME

Boudreau opened against Lyons with a drooping single in short left, stole second and worked around to the plate on a pair of outs. But this deficit proved of no consequence to the Sox. Their opening attack began with passes to Knickerbocker and Appling. After Kuhel had popped

LEE WINS, 7 TO 6, THEN PASSEAU FAILS IN 9TH, 5-4

Claude Hits Homer, but Suffers Fifth Defeat.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 30.—Bill Lee won his fifth victory of the season this afternoon when the Cubs conquered the Pirates, 7 to 6. In the second game, Claude Passeau, who had contributed a homer to a 4 to 0 lead, blew up in the sixth inning when the Pirates made six hits which produced four runs and a tie. Then, in the ninth, Rip Sewell, starting and losing pitcher in the first game and third pitcher in the second one, won his own game, 5 to 4. He led off with a double and scored on Frankie Gustine's only hit of the afternoon, a single to left.

It was Passeau's fifth defeat as compared with three victories. It also was the fourth game in the five played since the Cubs left home in which they lost in the final inning.

Get 13 Hits in Opener.

In the first game the Cubs concentrated 10 of their 13 hits in two innings—four hits, including Bob Sturgeon's triple with two on, producing three runs to tie the score in the fourth. Six hits in the sixth, including Phil Cavarretta's triple with two on, supplied four runs, the exact number needed for victory. Every man in the Chicago lineup made at least one hit. Stan Hack, Lou Novikoff, Sturgeon, and Lee made two each.

The Pirates used five pitchers against Lee—Sewell, Bob Klinger, Lloyd Dietz, Ken Heintzelman, and Joe Bowman.

FIRST GAME

The Pirates got off to a two run lead in the first inning of the first game. With one down, Handley beat out a bunt to Hack, after which Stewart supplied the second out with a fly to Dallessandro. Vaughan then doubled to left, Handley stopping at third. Van Robays singled to left, scoring Handley and Vaughan.

The Pittsburghers came back with another run in the second. DiMaggio doubled and Leiber missed Davis' fly. Sewell's squeeze bunt to Cavarretta scored DiMaggio. After Gustine had grounded out to Cavarretta, Handley tried another squeeze play, but the ponderous Davis, who was on third, was out, Hack to McCullough.

Cubs Get Going.

The Cubs tied the score at 3 all in the fourth. Dallessandro singled, got to second on Leiber's tap to Vaughan, and stopped at third on Novikoff's single to right. Cavarretta popped to Handley, but Sturgeon tripled to right, scoring Dallessandro and Novikoff. McCullough's single scored Sturgeon with the tying run.

Pirates Peck Away.

In the sixth, after Stringer had thrown out Vaughan, the Pirates got to Lee for their fourth run. Van Robays singled to left and scored on Fletcher's double to right.

Alf Anderson, who batted for Dietz in the seventh, singled to left and the fifth Pirate run soon resulted. Gustine bounced to Lee, and a double play seemed a certain prospect until Bill threw high to second. The ball caromed off Sturgeon's glove into center, Anderson reaching third and Gustine first. Handley struck out and

The Lasting Ties.

You left me suddenly one summer day,
After an auto crash had made you lame,
Lest out of pity for you I might say:
"Tho you're deformed I love you just the same."
You went away, you said, to set me free,
And yet you must have felt deep in your heart
That you and I could never really be
Supremely happy while we were apart.
No limp can dim the sunshine in your eyes,
No halting step can mar your spotless soul,
Your precious virtues are the lasting ties
That bind us firmer as the seasons roll;
And tho you were to limp the whole world thru
My hopeful heart would follow after you.

VISCOUNTY WINS $5,000 STAKE AT LINCOLN FIELDS

Beats Technician by Two Lengths Before 30,000.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
(Picture on next page.)

Viscounty, Emerson F. Woodward's sturdy stretch runner, raced away with the $5,000 Peabody Memorial handicap yesterday at Lincoln Fields. Sweeping thru the straightaway before a holiday crowd of 30,000 he came home two lengths ahead of the Woolford farm's Technician, while W. C. Hobson's brilliant little filly, Shine O'Night, was taking third place.

The crowd was backing Viscounty heavily in this mile and a sixteenth run. He closed at 6 to 5, while Technician and Mucho Gusto were sharing second place in the betting at 9 to 2.

Wins in 1:45 3-5.

And Viscounty fulfilled the confidence of his followers by running just the kind of a race they had expected. Johnny Adams held him off the early pace, brought him up into a contending position at the head of the stretch and then let him go. There was nothing to it after that.

Behind the three leaders in order of finish came Montsin, Forever Prince, Sporting, Mucho Gusto, and Blind Eagle. Viscounty ran the mile and a sixteenth in the sharp time of 1:45 3-5.

Steve Brooks took Sporting out to make a blazing pace immediately after the break, but the other boys refused to go with him. Jack Richard, aboard Mucho Gusto, was watching Technician and Shine O'Night. Racing closely bunched, these three let Sporting open up a six length advantage in the backstretch. Meanwhile Viscounty was moving along in seventh position.

Mucho Gusto Gives Up.

As they approached the turn out of the backstretch, Ken McCombs started moving with Technician, so Mucho Gusto and Shine O'Night went right along. They went after Sporting on the lower bend, but in that rush Mucho Gusto began to tire and, when he met with some interference, gave up.

Technician and Shine O'Night kept right after the pacemaker and meanwhile Viscounty was moving up steadily. As they headed into the stretch, Sporting still was in front by three lengths—but he was fading fast.

Technician and Shine O'Night overhauled him but now Viscounty was coming on. He swept thru between Shine O'Night and Technician and was out in front before they had reached midstretch. From there in Adams kept urging him and he was going steadily as they went over the line.

Zig Zag Wins 1st Start.

Butch Covington, veteran Kentucky horseman, put over a colt named Zig Zag in the first start of his career in the secondary feature on yesterday's card. This was a five furlong dash for 2 year olds.

From start to finish, Zig Zag had things his own way. James Haritos sent him into a clear lead on the dash for the turn. Zig Zag opened up a three length advantage on the curve and came on home to win by two and a half lengths. Valdina Firo was second and Drollon third.

There was quite a betting plunge on Zig Zag even tho it was his first time out. In the mutuals he paid $7.60, $4.40 and $4.

Zig Zag's time was 1:00 3-5, second best of the meeting for the five furlongs.

The total mutuel handle for the day was $639,126. This was $133,746 more than the sum bet last Memorial day, when $505,380 went thru the machines.

Another big day is in prospect. Today's program will be topped by the $5,000 Joliet Stakes. This will bring out a field of high class juveniles for a sprint of five furlongs. Fifteen are in the overnight entries.

Notre Dame to Battle Indiana in State Track

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ind., May 30.—Indiana colleges and universities will assemble here tomorrow for the annual state track and field meet. Not only is one of the best meets in the history of the state competition promised, but the defending champion, Notre Dame, seeks to retain that honor at the expense of Indiana university, which won the Western conference title two weeks ago. Eight scheels have entered 109 athletes in the program.

Team honors undoubtedly will rest with these two rivals but the result may hinge on how many points the smaller colleges are able to take. Notre Dame will have a larger and better balanced squad. Indiana depends on the individual brilliance of Roy Cochran, Archie Harris, Campbell Kane, and Wayne Tolliver, who took six Big Ten championships, and Fred Wilt, Paul Kendall and Marc Jenkins, who finished second behind teammates in three events, the two mile, one mile, and 440 yards, respectively. In addition, Cochran took second in the 220 yard low hurdles and the Indiana mile relay team finished fourth.

Seek to Repeat '36 Feat.

Small college stars, who may have a part in determining the team champion, include Ray Alsburg, Butler sprinter; Colin Higgins, DePauw pole vaulter and jumper, and Dick Stealey, Ball State, shot putter.

Indiana held the state championship three consecutive years prior to defeat last spring by Notre Dame. The Irish hope, however, to duplicate their astounding 1936 triumph, when they whipped Indiana when the Hoosiers, as now, were conference champions.

Kane should easily duplicate his Big Ten victories in the mile and half mile. Harris may not be able to take the shot put title from Francis Delaney who has beaten the big Indiana star three times in four meetings. Harris is certain to take the discus championship, however, and probably will break his own record of 164 feet 5 inches which he set two years ago. Cochran won three events in 1939 but was unable to compete last year because of injury. He is favored in the low hurdles but Ray Roy, of Notre Dame, will give him a battle in the quarter mile. Roy has run 47 5/10 seconds on the mile relay team and Coach Bill Mahoney, of Notre Dame, believes he can whip Cochran if he's at his peak.

Five Records in Danger.

The quarter mile record is 48 seconds and was made seven years ago by Ivan Fuqua of Indiana. Other records, in addition to this one and the discus throw, which are in danger are the half mile, two mile, and shot put.

Ran 500 miles but not in the money—Louis Tomei, Van Nuys, Cal., and Al Putnam, Indianapolis.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Mauri Rose, 35 year old veteran from Indianapolis, drove to victory in the 29th annual 500 mile automobile race today in a borrowed car. Rose had gone in as a substitute driver for Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., who had been trailing at 177 miles, and turned in a masterful job to finish a lap ahead of Rex Mays of Glendale, Cal.

Rose's time was 4 hours, 20 minutes, 36.34 seconds, an average of 115.117 miles per hour. The record of 117.2 M. P. H. was made by Floyd Roberts in 1938, who was killed in the Indianapolis race a year later.

Rose, who had been forced out in the 61st lap when his Italian built Maserati developed mechanical trouble, was substituted for Davis when the latter appeared to be out of the running.

A crowd of 160,000 saw the race.

Horn Is Third.

Ted Horn of Paterson, N. J., finished third, Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles fourth, Cliff Bergere of Hollywood, Cal., fifth, Chet Miller of Detroit sixth, Harry MacQuinn of Indianapolis seventh, Frank Wearne of Pasadena, Cal., eighth, Paul Russo, Kenosha, Wis., ninth, and Tommy Hinnershitz, Reading, Pa., tenth.

Shaw won $5,200 in lap money before his crash. Rose won $300 in his original mount, and $1,700 in lap prizes as a relief driver. Mays' lap prize total was $1,700.

Capital prize money from the Speedway Corporation, aside from the lap prizes is split as follows:

First place, $20,000; second, $10,000; third, $5,000; fourth, $3,500; fifth, $3,000; sixth, $2,200; seventh, $1,800; eighth, $1,600; ninth, $1,500; tenth, $1,400.

All Finishers Rewarded.

Consolation prizes to other finishers totaled $13,100.

There will be an official ruling later as to whether Rose and Davis will be recorded as cowinners. The only other similar case was in 1924 when L. L. Corum started and Joe Boyer relieved him and went on to win. They were listed as co-winners.

Rose, who is only 5 feet 6 inches tall, has been a consistent money winner in the last eight years here. He finished second in 1934, fourth in 1936, eighth in 1939, and third in 1940. Rose's qualifying time of 128.691 m. p. h. was the best in this year's preliminaries.

Shortly after the race began Emil Andres of Chicago and Joel Thorne of Alhambra, Cal., figured in a spectacular crash which injured the former slightly and forced them both out of action.

Shaw Crashes at 380.

Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, three time winner and leader at 380 miles, crashed into the wall and went to the side lines. Everett Saylor of Dayton, O., newcomer to the grind, lost control of his mount shortly after Shaw's misfortune and rolled over into the infield. He suffered severe head injuries and was reported in serious condition.

At the time of Shaw's crash the crowd was concentrating on a duel for the leadership between him and Mays. Rose was pushing ahead vir-

SOUTHERN CROSS WINNER IN RACE TO MILWAUKEE

Benedict's Yawl Finishes 13 Minutes Ahead.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 30.—The Southern Cross, Commodore Robert Benedict Jr's 55 foot cruising yawl, led a 20 boat fleet into Milwaukee harbor this morning to win the first long distance yacht race on Lake Michigan this season. The race, which started from Grant park harbor, Chicago, last night, was sponsored by the Great Lakes Cruising club.

Strong northeast winds were encountered by the yachts on the 82 mile trip. A rough sea and fog so thick that several competitors almost collided, combined to give the approximately 100 yachtsmen and two yachtswomen a cold, wet ride.

The Southern Cross finished at 8:04 a. m. Lively Lady, Otto Dreher's Q class racing sloop, was runner up of the fleet, finishing about 13 minutes later. Hope, Max Arthur's Q boat, was third to finish, 11 minutes after Lively Lady. Commodore Duncan Hodges' cutter, Kamaaina, the Anchorage Yacht club's entry, won in B class. Chicago's Best Dogs Vie for Honors in East

BY BOB BECKER.

A contingent of Chicago dog fanciers are n Madison, N. J., for the 15th annual Morris and Essex Kennel club show, which will be held today on the country estate of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge. Last year the show set a new record of 4,090 entries. Three thousand eight hundred seventy-four dogs are in this year's event. It is known as the biggest show in the world.

Some of the Chicagoland dog owners are going as exhibitors, some as spectators, and some as judges. Among the judges are Miss Doris Flagg, Northbrook, who will officiate in the English cocker spaniel ring; Mrs. John Phelps Wagner, Milwaukee, to judge boxers; H. R. Lounsbury, Glencoe, collies; Lloyd C. Brackett, Allegan, Mich., German shepherds, and C. H. Chamberlain, Pentwater, Mich., Samoyedes.

Fritz Seeks New Honors.

Local exhibitors in the Morris and Essex include Betty Ann Smith of Golf, who will show her famous St. Bernard champion, Bernarco Fritz von Taubertal; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bett, Chicago, who have entered their winning Kerry blue terrier, Champion Carefre Colleen of Kenmare; F. W. Evanger, Wheeling, who will exhibit a Great Dane; Marie L. Plamondon, Chicago, a cocker spaniel, and C. F. Parsons Jr. and Robert Halperin, both of Chicago, both to exhibit boxers.

A number of setter owners sent or took dogs to the big outdoor show. Jack Cooper of the Aragon kennels, Franklin Park, will exhibit Champion Kleiglight of Aragon, the stylish Irish setter, as well as two English setters owned by John H. Morse, formerly of Des Plaines and now living in Washington, D. C. Denny Hollenbeck of Chicago also is entering an Irish setter, as is Dr. R. L. Felton, Chicago. Russell Lindsay, Milwaukee, took a number of Irish water spaniels. Some of his competition in the water spaniel classes will come from an outstanding specimen owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wynn, Highland Park.

Giant Schnauzers Entered.

Ray Boisacq, Glenview, has entered two giant schnauzers. They are Hunding von Schoenmehr and Kundry von Schoenmehr. Both were bought recently from Charles Morse Jr., Lake Forest.

53,904 WATCH YOUR CHANCE WIN SUBURBAN STAKE

New York, May 30 (AP).—Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance won the 55th running of the Suburban handicap at Belmont Park today before a crowd of 53,904 fans, largest in New York's racing history.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Hash was second, a length behind the winner and half a length in front of Mrs. Marie Evans' Shotput. Royce Martin's Haltal was fourth, and the favorite, Charles S. Howard's Mioland, fifth.

Your Chance carried 114 pounds, compared to the 127 for the top-weight Mioland, and ran the mile and a quarter in 2:02 3-5. He was ridden by Don Meade, instead of his usual jockey, Harry Richards.

The victory was worth $25,200 to the winner, richest Suburban in the 56 year history of the stake. All New York records for betting and attendance were broken. The mutuel handle was $1,881,160, nearly $300,000 above the previous record total.

PRAJADHIPOK, 47, EX-KING OF SIAM, DIES IN ENGLAND

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Abdicated Monarch.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 31 [Saturday].—Former King Prajadhipok of Siam [Thailand], who until 1935 ruled 14,000,000 people, died of a heart attack early today at his home at Virginia Water in Surrey. He was 47 years old.

The five foot tall millionaire former monarch and his queen, Rambaibarni, had lived quietly in England since their abdication. They recently bicycled thru country lanes together and became well known to villagers who referred to them as the "little king and queen."

Body to Be Cremated.

Prajadhipok enjoyed taking photographs, sailing model yachts, collecting old English prints, tinkering with radios and cars, showing American movies and private films and gardening.

His body will be cremated in London on Tuesday.

Prajadhipok was the last absolute ruler of Siam, land of sacred elephants, stepping down from the throne March 2, 1935, after a reign of nine years and three months.

At the time he was visiting England for an operation to remove cataracts from both eyes. The Siamese parliament, dominated by military leaders, took advantage of his absence to enact laws removing the last of his royal prerogatives, the right to affirm or set aside death sentences. Ananda Mahidol, his nephew who is now 15 years old, was named king.

Visited United States.

The former monarch, son of Sowabha Pongsi and King Rama V., was born Nov. 8, 1893, and became king in 1925. He was educated in a monastery and at Eton, famous English school. He also attended the British Royal Military college at Woolwich and for a time served as an officer in the royal horse artillery at Aldershot.

He was married in 1918 to his 14 year old cousin who traveled with him on several occasions to Europe, returning to their native land by way of the United States. They were in Paris from 1921 to 1924 where Prajadhipok studied military tactics at the French staff college. It was at this time that his eyesight began to fail.

He visited the United States at that time to receive treatment for his eyes and returned in 1931 for additional medical aid.

EXPLOSION SINKS CRUISER AT NAVY PIER; ONE INJURED

One man was injured and four others were severely shaken last night when an explosion occurred aboard a 30 foot cabin cruiser that had been tied up for refueling at door 36 of Navy pier. The engine and the stern of the craft were blown out as the occupants were leaping to the dock.

Harry McGee. [Tribune Photo.]

The vessel was the Erika Ann, owned by A. Westphal, 708 South 1st avenue, Maywood, who had just bought it yesterday. He said when fuel was put in the tank there was an overflow. It was his opinion that this gasoline in the bilge was set off as he started the engine. He said the craft, worth $3,000, probably was a total loss.

Harry McGee, 30 years old, of Bellwood, suffered leg injuries. Besides Westphal the others aboard were Walter Peters, 2836 North Racine avenue; William Christianson, 3509 Fremont street, and Jerry Nordman, whose address was not learned.

YOUTH, MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR, IS SHOT BY FATHER

Richard Aman, 19 years old, of 2171 Eastwood avenue, was shot and seriously wounded early today by his father, Al Aman, former prohibition agent in the Chicago office. The shooting occurred when the boy, coming home late, attempted to get into his second floor bedroom thru a window. He failed to answer his father's query, "Who is it?" Aman, believing a burgler was in the room, fired twice. The boy was wounded three times, and police believed one bullet ricocheted. He was taken to Ravenswood hospital.

MARSHALL FIELD RAPS LINGO OF SOCIAL WORKERS

The "abracadabra" with which professional social welfare workers envelop their activities was attacked last night as injurious to the standing of welfare work in the public mind. Marshall Field III., chairman of the Citizens' Defense organization of New York City, made the charge in a speech before 100 members of the American Public Welfare association, meeting in the Shoreland hotel.

Field admitted the necessity for professional welfare workers, but said their "professional jargon" mystifies the public and engenders suspicion with regard to the work of private welfare organizations. "The public should be informed which agencies are well and honestly run," he said, in predicting an increasing trend toward public administration of welfare needs.

There is need for coördination of the work of various agencies, Field asserted. He urged federal aid for local governments whose welfare problems have been increased by the influx of migrant workers to newly created defense industries.

FRIEND DRAFTED, YOUNG EVANSTON NURSE ENDS LIFE

Miss Elizabeth Price, 27 years old, died yesterday in St. Francis' hospital, Evanston, from an overdose of sleeping tablets. Her father, A. C. Price, 1367 Scott avenue, Winnetka, a salesman, agreed with police that his daughter had taken her life. Miss Price, a practical nurse, was found unconscious in her room at 1333 Church street, Evanston, Saturday, a half empty bottle of tablets beside her bed. Price said his daughter, altho employed steadily, had been despondent for several months. He suggested it might have been because a young man he believed to be her sweetheart had been drafted. Mrs. L. W. Krausch, in whose home Miss Price lived, said she seemed to be in good spirits Saturday afternoon. An inquest will be held at 11 o'clock this morning in the hospital.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

2 FIRMS BEGIN NEW PIPE LINE CONSTRUCTION

Standard (Ind.) Job to Be 278 Miles.

Construction has just been started on new pipe lines to serve the nation's gasoline and natural gas users, two companies disclosed yesterday. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana has started work on two gasoline pipe lines totaling 278 miles and the Southern Natural Gas company is building new lines in the south to move gas. Contracts for the latter were placed this week and the company said construction is already underway.

Standard of Indiana has started construction on lines from Burlington Junction, Mo., near St. Joseph, to Des Moines, Ia., and from Council Bluffs, Ia., to Sioux Falls, S. D.

The Burlington Junction-Des Moines line will be 111 miles and the Council Bluffs-Sioux Falls line 167 miles.

Also Building Terminals.

Standard also is building two terminals and tank farms at Des Moines and Sioux Falls. Officials in Chicago said they were unable to give the costs of the improvements. Each terminal will distribute Standard products to bulk plants as distant as 200 miles.

C. P. Rather, president of Southern Natural Gas, said in Birmingham, Ala., that the company's $7,000,000 improvement program will increase its gas delivery capacity by 45,000,000 cubic feet a day. A 120 mile line is being laid to connect six new gas wells at Logansport, La., to the company's line running from Monroe, La., to Atlanta.

Goes Under Mississippi River.

Other work includes the construction of more than 120 miles of line to parallel the present line and numerous smaller lines. Included in the latter will be two new lines under the Mississippi river about 30 miles above Vicksburg.

Rather said that a considerable part of the work is being undertaken "largely because" of the armament program.

Farmers Vote Today; Wheat Rule at Stake

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—In the Agricultural Adjustment administration's first nation-wide referendum wheat farmers will vote tomorrow on the question of applying sweeping marketing controls to the bread grain.

The issue was whether farmers would approve a quota system which would give the government authority to tell each farmer how much he might sell or feed and to penalize violators about 48 cents a bushel on excess grain sold or fed. A favorable vote of at least two-thirds of those participating in the referendum was required to put the plan in effect.

On the outcome depended the fate of a measure which now supports the price of wheat in this country at a level almost 40 cents a bushel above world prices. Government price-supporting loans must be discontinued if quotas are defeated.

DETAILS EXPLAINED

Who is eligible to vote in the AAA farmer referendum on wheat marketing quotas?

Any farmer engaged in the production of wheat for harvest this year on a farm having 15 acres or more planted to the grain or on a farm which has a normal production of 200 bushels or more on the acreage planted to wheat.

May more than one person from the same farm vote?

Yes. Any person entitled to share in the proceeds of the crop is eligible. This includes the landowner, tenant and sharecropper.

May the operator of more than one farm cast more than one vote?

No.

What would be a farm's quota?

All the wheat produced on its AAA planting allotment, plus any old wheat carried over from previous crops.

What would be the penalty for violation of a quota?

Tax About 48 Cents a Bushel.

A tax of half the basic loan rate for wheat, or about 48 cents a bushel on grain sold or fed in excess of the marketing quota. A farmer could avoid the tax by storing the wheat under bond for disposal when quotas were lifted, or by turning the grain over to the government for relief use.

What would happen should quotas be rejected?

Farmers would be free to market or feed all the wheat they produced regardless of acreage allotments. Government price supporting wheat loans would be discontinued.

DYKSTRA WARNS LUMBER UNION: 'LET MEN VOTE'

Pushes Demand for Ending of Strike.

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—A showdown test appeared at hand tonight in President Roosevelt's effort to halt strikes hampering the armament program.

Clarence A. Dykstra, chairman of the defense mediation board, demanded that officials of the CIO International Woodworkers union put up to 12,000 individual members the question of ending their strike and returning to work in 52 Puget Sound lumber camps and mills. The union is demanding a wage increase of 7½ cents an hour over the present scale of 67½ cents.

May Force Board's Hand.

If they should refuse, a crisis in the problem of strikes and rearmament appeared inevitable with the administration forced to take some action to back up the President's declaration of last Tuesday that the American people expect labor and capital to accept the mediation board's recommendations.

Dykstra acted after O. M. Orton, president, and Ilmar Koivunen, vice president of the union, wired that they had no authority to accept a board proposal that would be resumed during a study of labor conditions in the Pacific coast lumber industry.

The board had wired the union officials calling attention to the President's statement and to their recommendations.

Committee Says It Lacks Power.

In reply, the union officials advised the board today:

"Authority of our committee in view of recent vote of membership on the mediation board proposal extends only to reëntering negotiations with employer committee on our minimum demands."

Dykstra then sent this telegram to Orton and Koivunen: "It does not appear that you have complied with the request made in the board's wire of May 29, 'The board requests that you bring this telegram to personal attention of every one with the power to vote upon the acceptance or rejection of the board's recommendations.' Please inform this board by wire whether or not it is your intention to comply with this request."

Shipyard Tieup Continues.

Meanwhile, the strike of 2,000 AFL and CIO machinists at 11 San Francisco bay shipyards continued to hold up work on $500,000,000 worth of ships. The strikers ask $1.15 an hour straight wages and double pay for overtime.

Other workers employed in the shipyards were reported returning to their jobs in increasing numbers, even tho this meant crossing the machinists' picket lines.

In another important dispute, the controversy over wages in the soft coal mining industry, the mediation board is to present its settlement proposal next week to the CIO United Mines Workers and southern Appalachian soft coal operators.

Bendix Strike Averted.

Acceptance yesterday of a compromise wage increase by the Bendix, South Bend, Ind., local of the CIO United Automobile Workers of America averted a strike at the Bendix Products division of Bendix Aviation corporation.

Union officials said a blanket wage increase of 7½ cents an hour for the 3,000 employés had been accepted by the union, retroactive to May 8.

Only last week the union rejected a proposal by the defense mediation board calling for increases similar to those accepted today. The union had asked a 15 cent increase.

Most branches of business in the city, with the exception of transactions on the Chicago Stock exchange, recorded substantial increases during April over the same 1940 month, the Chicago Association of Commerce said yesterday in its monthly analysis of trade conditions.

TRANSPORTATION OFFICE CREATED BY F.D.R. ORDER

Assumes Last Job Left to Defense Unit.

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt today ordered creation of an office of transportation and thereby terminated the work of the National Defense Advisory commission exactly a year after it first met.

Transportation was the only activity left in the commission as the fast growing Office for Emergency Management swallowed up all of its other duties in new agencies, particularly the Office for Production Management.

The President, it was learned from authoritative sources, has approved the new agency as a planning and coordinating body designed to get maximum defense coöperation in the fields of railroad, bus, truck, pipe line, ship, air line, and barge transportation.

Budd May Head Agency.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad and transportation member of the defense commission, is expected to head the railroad division of the new agency, with some one else having experience in other transportation problems at the top of the whole setup.

These sources said flatly that the President had no intention of placing the railroads under government operation as they were during the world war. Officials here regard the world war step a failure, and said they believe that government directed cooperation of the railroads under their private management can get better results.

The President took no formal step to disestablish the defense commission. He merely caused it to cease to exist by taking away its last function.

Budd Original Member.

Budd was one of six original members who filed thru a crowd of over 100 newspaper men to enter the White House offices last Memorial day. In his steaming hot study that day President Roosevelt outlined the work to be done. The seventh member, Sidney Hillman, was ill.

Since then they have had an important hand in guiding 5 billion, 200 million dollars of cash expenditures, and in steering a long term program now aggregating approximately 43 billion dollars.

Dissolution of the defense commission started in January, when Production Member William S. Knudsen, Labor Member Sidney Hillman, and Materials Member Edward R. Stettinius Jr., all went to OPM. Knudsen is director, Hillman co-director, and Stettinius director of priorities.

Two Others Transferred.

Next Price Member Leon Henderson and Consumer Member Harriett Elliott were transferred to the newly created office of price administration and civilian supply. Henderson is administrator and Miss Elliott deputy administrator.

With hardly a ripple, the agriculture section was then transferred to the agriculture department. Chester C. Davis, who was the agriculture member, had resigned to become president of the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis.

APRIL LOSS FROM STRIKES 5 TIMES TOTAL FOR MARCH

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins said today that strikes during April involved more than four times as many workers as in March "and there was more than five times as much idleness."

Altogether, she reported, there were 400 new strikes last month affecting approximately 500,000 workers and resulting in 7,800,000 man-days of idleness. She said the bituminous coal stoppage, in effect all month, accounted for approximately two-thirds of the total workers and more than three-quarters of the man-days lost.

INTERTYPE.

What is the business of the Intertype corporation? I notice its stock is listed on the New York Stock exchange.—H. M.

Answer: The Intertype corporation, Brooklyn, N. Y., manufactures typesetting machines and equipment used in the printing industry. Some of its machines are designed especially for setting display type for advertisments.

Intertype equipment is used thruout the world and in normal times a large segment of the company's revenues is derived from foreign sales. The war, however, has cut this foreign business sharply.

Main manufacturing operations are conducted in the Brooklyn plant. Foreign factories are at Slough, England, and Berlin, Germany. The German properties were written down to $1 in 1937, and the English assets were carried at an adjusted value in the 1940 balance sheet.

Despite the decline in foreign business, earnings have been on the upgrade. Net income in the March quarter this year climbed to $122,910, equal to 55 cents a common share, compared with $55,098 or 25 cents a share in the 1940 March quarter. Results in the last five years follow:

	Net income.	Earned per share.	Dividend per share.
1936	$392,626	$1.42	$0.75
1937	370,923	1.41	0.80
1938	164,179	0.57	0.45
1939	122,633	0.55	0.40
1940	286,560	1.29	0.50

A dividend of 40 cents on the common stock will be paid June 14 to holders of record May 29. The company has paid dividends in each year since 1920, except in depression periods—in 1921, and 1932, 1933, and 1934. Capitalization comprises 221,740 shares of no par common stock, and one million dollars in funded debt.

U. S. SUPPLIES OF INDUSTRIAL DIAMONDS LOW

Tripling of Imports Not Sufficient.

New York, May 30 [Special].—Constantly increasing pressure from industry as the rearmament and British aid production rises has created a "tight" situation in the supply of industrial diamonds despite imports now running at a rate nearly treble prewar levels.

Price rises have been held down to 10 to 20 per cent, on the average, because of the increasing supplies made available. An important factor in this connection has been the rapid development of Brazilian mines, almost all of whose production is suitable only for industrial use. Even with Brazilian output estimated at more than three times that of two years ago, however, South Africa still is providing about 90 per cent of America's imports.

Indispensable in Industry.

Industrial diamonds, so vital in thousands of factories, have been brought into the spotlight by war production requirements. They are indispensable for machine tools, mining, drilling, grinding, and drawing fine wire. They figure essentially in production of guns, bomb sights, aircraft engines, and other war materials, as well as the making of automobiles and ordinary machine products.

The war divorcement of diamond supplies and diamond cutters, reducing sharply the output of finished stones, has brought increases ranging from 20 to as much as 300 per cent in gem stone prices. Only in gems of one-half carat and larger have increases been relatively small.

Authorities here assert that it probably will be as much as two years after war ends before the disrupted cutting industry can be restored to normal in Belgium and the Netherlands.

Few Cutters in United States.

An idea of the shortage of cutters here and in Britain, where supplies of rough diamonds are relatively plentiful, is shown by the fact that New York has only about 500 such skilled men. The low countries had 40,000 to 50,000, few of whom have managed to migrate from German occupied territory.

The pinch has been felt most severely on small diamonds used for wedding bands, mountings, and other jewelry.

Each industrial diamond is somewhat a law to itself as far as price is concerned. It may be "worked" a bit, but it is not cut and polished as is the brilliant gem. The value of this ugly duckling depends on such factors as shape, edges, points, and hardness.

In order to meet armament needs, the United States government has enlisted the aid of the British purchasing commission to obtain from South Africa more than 6,000 additional diamond dies needed.

Imports of industrial diamonds jumped from an average of 1,500,000 carats a year in 1936-'38 to new record figures of 3,569,000 carats in 1939 and 3,802,000 in 1940.

JAPAN SETS UP NEW CONTROLS FOR EXCHANGE

TOKIO, May 30 (AP).—A new national foreign exchange "loss compensation system" will be put into effect June 1, Domei, Japanese news agency, said today.

The new plan will have the effect of strengthening the tie which has long existed between the pound sterling and the yen, by which the yen's international value was held steady in terms of sterling by official operations in the exchange market.

It sets up an account in the Yokohama Specie bank to concentrate all holdings of foreign exchange in the pound sterling or other currencies hitched to the "sterling bloc."

ARMS PROGRAM EXPANSION COST NEAR 3 BILLIONS

Washington, D. C., May 30 (AP).—New plant construction, expansion and equipment since the beginning of the armament program one year ago involves commitments of nearly $3,000,000,000, the Office of Production Management announced today.

More than 1,700 construction and expansion projects are included.

The commitments include both those of the United States and British governments and private financing in cases where the firms have obtained certificates of necessity to permit tax amortization of the cost over a five year period.
